THE EPITOME 1950

THOMAS HUGER HAZELHURST, Professor of Chemistry, was a gentleman and a scholar. He had a manner that attracted many friends and held them steadfastly. His interest in students extended beyond the scope of studies and classes into the realms of their extra-curricular activities and their personal problems. His untimely passing has brought sorrow to the students, alumni and faculty of Lehigh University. To him we dedicate the 1950 Epitome.

Seated—Dr. Thomas, Jollie, Haaps, Gabuzda, Martin. Standing—Tapper, Kanenson, Jordan, Langenhagen, Garrett, Paulus.

Alpha Epsilon Delta

Alpha Epsilon Delta, a national honorary pre-medical fraternity, was founded at the University of Alabama in 1926. Since then it has grown into a large organization with fifty-one chapters and approximately 8300 members. Pennsylvania Alpha chapter at Lehigh University is the first of four chapters in this state.

Alpha Epsilon Delta is an active, rather than static, honorary society. In our selection of men to be initiated into the organization, we try to stress interest, personality, character, and ability to cooperate with others, as well as high scholastic standing. Alpha Epsilon Delta usually works in close coordination with the R. W. Hall Pre-Medical Society, in order to reach and benefit as many as possible of the Lehigh pre-meds. It endeavors to plan programs of interest to all pre-medical students as well as those of the organization proper.

Some of these activities are open meetings with speakers, papers, or debates, plus a trip to a medical school and a biological supply laboratory.

The officers for the year 1949-50 were:

DR. STANLEY J. THOMAS

Faculty Advisor

HAROLD J. HOOPS President

CHARLES SANDWICK .. Vice-president

Other members were: John Jordan, Bruce Tapper, I. William Ciaravino, William Garrett, Herbert Gretz, William Kanenson, John Longenhagen, Harold Paulus, Michael Yannone.

Alpha Lambda Omega

In 1941, Henry Seebald, now a member of the mathematics department at Lehigh, along with a group of other Allentown students, organized a club known as the Allentown Living Organization. The purpose of this club, as is the purpose of the present fraternity, was to enable students from Allentown and the surrounding towns to become acquainted and to find some means for participating in the University's social life that they might otherwise miss completely.

In 1942, the idea of establishing a local fraternity was conceived, and a constitution was prepared and submitted to the Dean of Undergraduates. With the Dean's approval, Alpha Lambda Omega became the only local social fraternity connected with Lehigh at the present time. The original group included 15 to 20 men, but the fraternity has grown steadily and at the present time there are approximately 60 undergraduate brothers.

Membership is open to interested students living in the Allentown area. New freshmen, as well as upperclassmen, are eligible.

While Alpha Lambda Omega does not have its own fraternity house, periodic meetings take place at various public hotels or clubs. Lack of a permanent chapter home does not prevent the social program from being well-organized and enjoyable. Events sponsored by the fraternity include freshmen smokers, parties, picnics, and dances for members. This year's social program was highlighted by the fall initiation banquet and the two houseparty weekend events.

Alpha Lambda Omega has had various of its members an Arcadia, thus commuting students have been represented in student government.

Officers of the fraternity for the year were:

Alpha Kappa Psi

At the first meeting of the Alpha Sigma chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi for the school year 1949-50, which was held on October 6, 1949, the following men were appointed to committees: Publicity and Pledge Committee, P. Guidon, J. Hildebrand, C. Voros, W. Murphy, and J. Nohls; Social and Program Committee, R. Baker, F. Batson, and W. Wilson; Efficiency, H. Baker; Corporation Report Committee, J. Martin, E. Erikson, and F. Morrissey.

The Corporation Report Committee was formed to make out information sheets for companies interviewing business students for permanent employment. Each member of Alpha Kappa Psi was assigned a company to look up the specified data. These reports were placed on file open to all students who may be interested.

On October 21, 1949, our rushing party was held to acquaint candidates for membership with the fraternity and to enable the brothers to meet the new men. The selected men were pledged in the traditional ceremony at the university flagpole on October 26, 1949. The thirty-nine pledges were initiated at Shankweiler Restaurant, Allentown, on November 9, 1949. The initiation ceremony was followed by a banquet. Mr. Carl Baker, Head of the Department of Industrial Relations at the Western Electric Company, gave a very interesting talk on "The Development of Economics in Our Modern World."

In keeping with Alpha Kappa Psi's policy in making industrial trips we were very fortunate in being able to take a tour of the Mack Truck assembly plant in Allentown. Our trips planned for the spring semester of 1950 include Bethlehem Steel in Bethlehem, and Neuweilers Brewery in Allentown.

In the middle of January, 1950, we had an opportunity to meet Brother Herb Wright, one of the ten original founders of Alpha Kappa Psi. He was our guest speaker at a banquet held at the Beethoven Maennerchor.

In February, thirty brothers of Alpha Kappa Psi were awarded their degrees and left to make their place in the world. Included in those thirty men were All Paragone, president, and Jahn Kirk, the Master of Rituals.

Officers for the fall semester were:

ALBERT P. PARAGONE President
 SHERWOOD W. CASE Vice-president
 DONALD P. SCHLEGEL Treasurer
 DONALD R. CAMERON Secretary
 JOHN A. KIRK Master of Rituals

First Row—McClure, R. Heim, Reed, Jackson, Fehnel, Ludlow, Myers, Bartlett, Crosson. Second Row—Schneiders, Loiseux, Compton, W. Heim, Wagner, Fastiggi, Niederer, Vekoney, LeDene, Abbott. Alpha Phi Omega

Alpha Psi chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, the national service fraternity, has as its purpose service to the students and faculty, service to the community, service to the brothers of the fraternity, and service to the nation. Trying to fulfill these four purposes has kept us busy from September to June.

As usual, the fraternity activities started with the influx of freshmen in September. Twenty brothers turned out to guide and instruct the freshmen by day and night, climaxing the week with a dance on Saturday night.

Closely following freshmen week was the annual Scout Visitation Day, when 700 scouts and their leaders from a tri-state area were given a chance to see the university in operation, both academically and athletically.

The campus blood bank started last year for Lehigh's faculty and students was continued with excellent support from all quarters. Some of the more visible results of our work are the "Sales and Rides" bulletin board near the chemistry building and the Christmas trees in front of the alumni building. Another pledge project was the listing of all the memorial plaques; while the semi-annual book sale was its usual success.

Officers for the past year were:

DAVID KLADIVKO President
RICHARD W. FEHNEL . . Vice-president
HAROLD G. HENRY

Recording Secretary
TIMOTHY R. LOIZEAUX

Corresponding Secretary
WALTER W. MOCK Historian
ERIC C. MARTIN . . . Alumni Secretary

The Lehigh Student Branch of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers which has its inception on October 12, 1902, has the distinction of being the first student branch founded. This movement has now grown to 127 branches in all parts of the country.

The purpose of a student branch is to bring about a closer relationship between students and the professional world, to give the students a better understanding of practical engineering, to guide them in their specific field of endeavors, and to afford new students the opportunity of becoming acquainted with the faculty and their fellow students.

The branch invites prominent men in the electrical engineering and related fields to speak at the monthly meetings and the talks are frequently supplemented by films and slides. Field trips are also made to give the members a better knowledge of practical engineering. The main trip this year was a tour of the Sunbury Plant of the Pennsylvania Power and Light Company. This plant was selected as an excellent example of modern electrical engineering as applied to the steam power plant. The monthly meeting, prior to the trip, featured representatives of the industry as speakers who gave preliminary description of the plant in order to make the tour of the plant more meaningful. The entire project was considered highly successful.

Prof. J. L. Beaver, who, as counselor, guided the activities of the Lehigh Student Branch for 26 years, has been succeeded this year by Prof. W. Lyle Donaldson.

The Lehigh Student chapter of A.I.I.E. was organized by a group of Industrial Engineering students in December, 1949. It has long been felt that I.E.'s have needed an organization of their own because of their interest in specialized problems in industry.

The chief aims of the student organization are the promotion of a better understanding of Industrial Engineering and the betterment of relations between the students and faculty of the I.E. Department. In addition it is hoped that by having speakers from industry at the meetings the members may be able to gain valuable knowledge of the problems met in the field.

The first meeting of the chapter was held on the first of December, at which time the constitution was ratified and adopted. At the present time there are almost 100 active members including several men from industry.

The officers for the year 1949-50 are:

ROBERT M. HANNAN President
EDWARD G. MITTAL .. Vice-president
ROBERT F. KAMP Treasurer
JAMES D. WEBER Secretary

The Lehigh University Student chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers serves the members in three important ways. First of all, it gives the student an opportunity to keep up to date in new developments by having outstanding engineers address the regular monthly meetings. Secondly, it gives the student a chance to become familiar with the engineering vocabulary used by prominent engineers. Thirdly, it enables the C. E. students from all classes to get to know each other and thus bind the society closer together.

In keeping with its purpose of enlightening the students in the various phases of Civil Engineering, speakers from several fields addressed the group this year. Ken Cox, a Lehigh graduate, spoke to the first meeting on "Building the South Capitol Bridge in Washington, D. C." L. D. Matter presented a talk of "The Pennsylvania Water Board and Its Accomplishments." Mr. E. M. Smith spoke at the annual Christmas banquet and gave some interesting information on the construction of the Ledo Road and also some information about the people and customs of India. Jacob Feld presented a talk on "Soil Mechanics." Lamott Grover presented a talk on "Structural Welding and its Growing Importance." The next speaker presented a paper on "Dam Construction." The last speaker for the year gave a talk on "Highway Engineering."

The membership in the Student Chapter this year is one of the largest ever. The total membership is one hundred and twenty.

The annual Christmas banquet was held at Hanover Lodge with one hundred students, faculty, wives, and dates in attendance. Corsages were given to the women, and door prizes were given to the lucky ticket holders. The last event of the year was a joint picnic with the Lafayette A.S.C.E. chapter and was held in May.

Prof. Roger E. Kolm is the new faculty advisor; Robert H. Klucher, president; John H. Bond, vice-president; Karl L. Dahl, secretary; and Ralph L. Kraemer, treasurer.

First Row—Dahl, Klucher, Prof. Eney, J. Bond, Kraemer. Second Row—R. Bond, Numbers, Abbott, Wood, Ahrenhold, Hauser, Greenough, Weston, Williams, Bowler. The Lehigh Student Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was founded in 1911. The principle objectives of the student branch are to broaden the student's acquaintance with the practical side of Mechanical Engineering, to enable the student to establish fraternal contact with his fellow students in engineering, both at his Alma Mater and at other colleges, and to meet graduate engineers engaged in the active practice of mechanical engineering.

To these ends the Lehigh Student Branch holds monthly meetings at which prominent men from industry speak on topics of general interest to all. Each member receives the monthly A.S.M.E. publication, "Mechanical Engineering."

An outstanding event of the fall semester is the annual Lehigh-Lafayette Smoker sponsored by the Anthracite-Lehigh Valley Section of A.S.M.E. It is an informal get-together of the students from Lehigh and Lafayette with the practicing engineers of this locality. The spring semester is highlighted by a picnic at one of the local parks.

The Lehigh Student Branch sends delegates to the Annual Regional Student Conferences as well as the Annual A.S.M.E. Meeting.

The officers for 1949-50 were:

EDWARD C. LUTHY	President
ROBERT N. KUHN	Vice-president
DONALD F. MILLER	Secretary
ANDREW J. AULD	Treasurer

Brown Key Society

The Brown Key Society, in its third year of activity since its reorganization in 1948, spent a busy year in its function of assisting visiting athletic teams and performing services for various university projects.

Under the guidance of its President, Ed Haltenhoff, the Society carried out a vast program of fostering better intercollegiate relations. The members accomplished this task by serving as hosts to all athletic teams visiting the Lehigh campus. Visiting athletes, be they football players of great repute or the unsung heroes of the golf team, soon became acquainted with the distinctive brown and white arm band symbolic of the Society, and the friendly assistance that they might expect from the wearer of this arm band. Typical of the Society's work was its role in the management of the annual Prep School Wrestling Tournament.

Responding to a call for help from the administrative offices of the University, the members offered their aid in solving the campus parking problem at football contests and at the testimonial dinner given in honor of Eugene G. Grace. Also they served as monitors in the traditional Lafayette Pep Rally pajama parade through Bethlehem.

The Society found itself on a firmer financial basis at the close of the year by virtue of income received from ushering services. This fund-raising campaign is all a part of the Society's long-range program for the promotion of student grants for deserving athletes.

Arcadia

On April 27, 1949, an entire new Arcadia was installed in office by Dean Wray H. Congdon. The sixteen men installed comprised the third Student Council to be elected under the Hare System of Proportional Representation. Following a week of intensive campaigning by thirty-five aspirants to office, these fifteen men were chosen by over 1600 students to represent them in the forthcoming year.

Immediately after the investment ceremonies, officers were elected by the newly installed Arcadians. Again the P.R. system was used, and John Jordan was elected president; Ferris Saydah, vice-president; Robert Courtney, treasurer; and Edmund Rider, secretary. President Jordan told the members that all of their other extra-curricular activities must be subordinated to their duties as Arcadia members. How well this group has conducted its affairs is a matter of record.

The history of Student Government at Lehigh is a long and varied one with its fortunes rising and falling like a tide. Arcadia, like so many of our other organizations here at Lehigh, was started by Richard Harding Davis, who seems to have done everything at Lehigh except graduate. This original group was organized as a social club and met in the various taprooms of Bethlehem. As Arcadia's influence grew, it accumulated more duties and responsibilities which in time passed from them to the Lehigh Christian Council and then back to an Arcadia composed of the Presidents of various campus activities. During the war, control of Arcadia reverted to a five man committee from whence it has evolved into the organization it is at present.

Arcadia members are appointed to committees at the beginning of each school year and serve, sometimes in conjunction with the faculty, throughout their remaining time in office. The joint Student-Faculty Committees are: Student Activities, Student Club Finance, Board of Publications, Discipline, and the Drown Hall House Committee. Other important committees are Publicity, Student Elections, N.S.A., Concessions, Continuity, and Freshman Handbook. These committees meet as often as needed and report to Arcadia who makes the final decision on all questions except those pertaining to the Discipline Committee.

Among the accomplishments of Arcadia this year have been the strengthening of University-National Student Association relationships, the establishment of Student Leadership Forums, the successful campaign for the Campus Chest Fund, the organization (along with O.D.K.) of three University Meetings, the publishing of a Freshman Handbook, continuation of the Purchase Card System, successful operation of the Faculty Evaluation Program, conduction of a Freshman Tug-of-War with Lafayette Freshmen, establishment of liaison with the Placement Bureau, conduction of the annual Pajama Parade prior to the Lehigh-Lafayette football game, and repayment of property damage resulting from the over-enthusiastic gathering of wood for the bonfire prior to the parade. Arcadia also offers many services to the students in the form of stenographic work, a Lost and Found Bureau, and the maintenance of a central office and meeting room for many undergraduate organizations. These services are under the direction of Arcadia's very efficient secretary, Miss Mary Tachovsky. The other members of Arcadia in addition to the four officers are: Dr. Herbert M. Diamond, Robert N. Bond, J. Harry Dowling, F. Richard Gratton, Charles E. Haltenhoff, James N. Kennedy, Jr., Paul L. Loewenwarter, Donald F. Miller, Joseph D. Ricapito, Jr., Francis W. Seebald, Edwin A. Wallace, Fred Wibiralske, and James M. Bridgeman.

The enthusiastic participation of all Arcadia members, and their unselfish devotion to their duties have combined to make this Student Government one of the most efficient and effective of any which have served at Lehigh.

Band

The Lehigh Band grew this year to its largest post-war size: ninety-eight men in the fall semester, and eighty in the spring. This year also saw the inauguration of academic credit to freshmen and sophomores taking band. As usual, the practice of formations and marching was the chief time-consumer during football season, and as a result of determined effort on the part of 98 men (this in itself is a feat) the band earned an enviable response from all who saw and heard it. Early in the season we began to be referred to as the "singing and marching band" due to our practice of intoning the university songs and "How d'ya do Everybody, How D'ya Do?" as we came on the field before each game. We seem to have started something we can't stop.

The featured game of the year for us was at Brown University in Providence, R. I. No one was surprised at the inclement weather that accompanied us to Brown—it's an old tradition of the weather man to invoke rain for the Lehigh Band trips. It was at Brown that one of Mr. Schempf's wildest ideas received its baptism: between halves we depicted the score of the current world series baseball game, with appropriate background music.

One other event rounded out the fall semester. We played for Commencement exercises on February 5, at which time four of our most valuable members graduated: Pete Thurnbull, trumpet; Bob Kuhns, Ronald Beyer, and Bob Merritt, clarinet. All were four year veterans of the Band.

The second semester started off with a symphonic concert in Grace Hall, complete with a live audience of 500. Bob Cairns took the spotlight here with a magnificent trumpet solo. One week later saw us at Newton, N. J. for a benefit concert that was enthusiastically received. At the end of February a delegation of five men represented Lehigh at the annual State Band which met and performed at Carnegie Tech.

An old-fashioned 'Pop' concert was held on May 27, which was combined with the Inter-living group Singing Contest.

With the addition of a large number of freshmen, the Lehigh Chapel Choir has undoubtedly reached its highest level of activity. As a result of a larger choir, the University Chorale, of which the Chapel Choir is the nucleus, and which includes the St. Luke's Nurses Choir, and the Moravian Triple Trio, has put on increasingly better programs. Highlights of the year's work by the Chorale were the Christmas Program and the Easter Cantata. With these additional successes under its belt the Chorale bids to become one of Lehigh's outstanding vocal groups and a permanent picture in the campus scene.

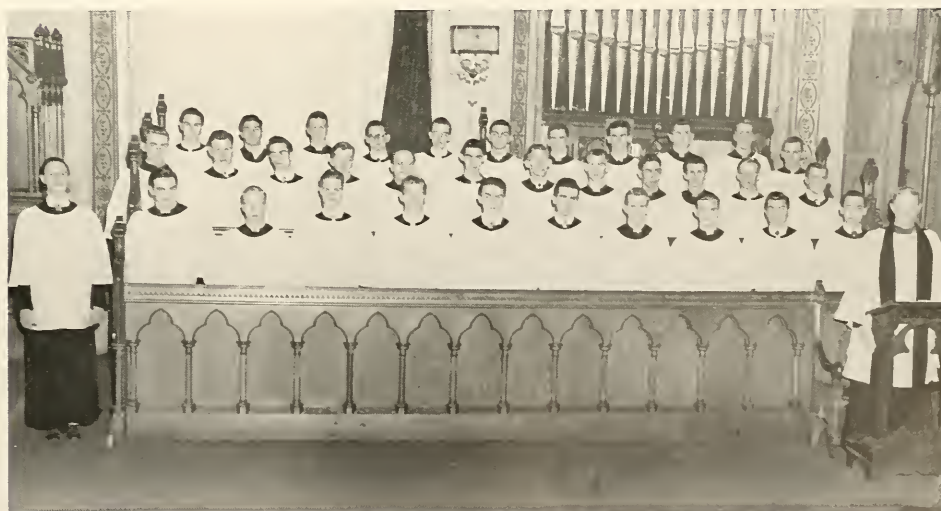

High enthusiasm among its members has promoted the social aspect of the choir under the guiding hand of Mr. George Ganz, its director and "public relations advisor." Resulting from such spirit was the participation of the choir in quite a few combined practices with the Saint Lukes Nurses Chorus, following which the members of the groups enjoyed themselves in a social evening of dancing and the partaking of refreshments. In addition, the group combined to sponsor the "Heart Throb Ball"—not to mention a very enjoyable hayride in the late fall.

Increased University allotments to the choir have resulted in new gowns and the purchasing of more good music. Some of this music was rendered by the group for the enjoyment of many Bethlehemites at Christmastime when the Christmas Service from Packer Memorial Chapel was broadcast.

Amid the clacking of typewriters and the screams of innumerable editors, the Brown and White groans its way to press each Wednesday and Sunday evenings. And on into the next morning.

Attempting to be a newspaper in the strict sense of the word, and yet be representative of all phases of university life, has been tough on the Brown and White. It involves squabbles with Arcadia, the Faculty and Administration, and even with the students it is supposed to represent. Through it all the Brown and White plods, striving to improve with each issue.

An attempt at something different, was the "Purity Issue." Well received by the campus, it made fun of everything that it is permissible to lampoon on this campus. Ed Perazone's cartoons depicting the activities of one "Lee High" hit the funnybone of the entire B & W circulation. Upon "Lee's" retirement, the "Little Man On Campus" appeared to capture the laughs in each issue.

Chemical Society

"Mutua Participazione Lucrum Facimus." With this motto and an abundance of energy and ambition, the Chemical Society of Lehigh University was founded in 1871. Organized to foster and increase in the institution an interest in chemistry, to bring about a closer relation between students and the professional world, and to afford the student a good opportunity to become acquainted with the faculty and their fellow students.

Now in its seventy-ninth year (the oldest student society at Lehigh), and after a whirlwind membership drive, the Chemical Society achieved an enviable membership of three hundred and twenty students and faculty members. The society's growth and achievements have made this year one of the brightest in the organization's history.

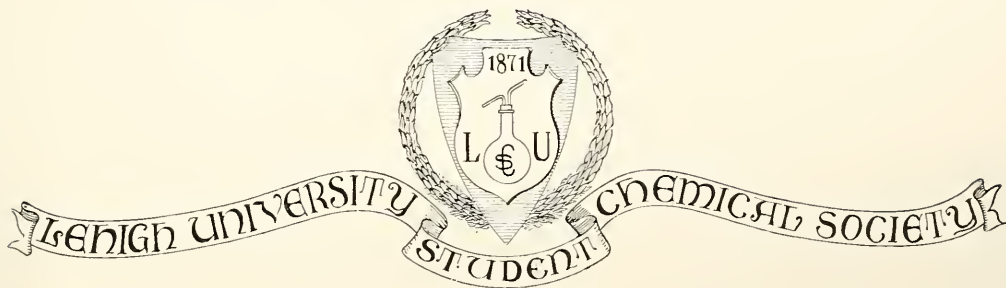

In keeping with its purpose to foster and increase interest in chemistry and chemical engineering at Lehigh, programs of unusual interest were planned for the year. Speaking on the subject of "Progress in Better Living," Dr. Louis P. Shannon of the duPont Company gave a most interesting account of the latest developments in chemical research and product development. Another interesting lecture demonstration was presented by Mr. L. D. Grady, of the New Jersey Zinc Company concerning the development of luminous paint pigments.

As in the past, the year's highlight was the traditional Christmas banquet at the Masonic Temple, attended by two hundred and seventy members who stuffed themselves with roast beef and all the fixings. After enjoying the after-dinner speech by Dr. Crum, Head of the Greek Department at Lehigh, the spotlight focused on the super-production, "Souse Mountain," produced and directed by Jack Ransohoff. To the musical score from Rogers and Hammerstein's "South Pacific" was added a generous dose of original satire on the faculty many of whom were seen to wince under the pain. The cast was stimulated to give their utmost by frequently "nipping" a mixture guaranteed to incite courage—100% ethanol in fruit juice. With the singing of the Alma Mater another highly successful Christmas banquet came to an end.

Na one will be able to forget the spring picnic at Dr. Anderson's Gauß's Hill farm. Roughing it, the members burned hot dogs, drank beer, and attempted to play a game similar to softball. New friendships were made, old one's were cemented, and chemistry was completely forgotten.

In 1949 the Chemical Society, recognizing the need for the proper affiliation with national professional organizations, was reorganized so that its members could become affiliated with the American Institute of Chemical Engineers or the American Chemical Society, depending on the student's major field. The Chemical Society still acts as the parent organization, but both student societies flourish side by side and act as separate bodies when professional activities so dictate.

Christian Council

In the spring of 1949, the Student Chapel Society, under the leadership of K. Franklin Spoor, resigning president, dissolved, and the membership formed a new organization, the Christian Council. This Council was planned to avoid the weaknesses of the old group and provide the greatest organizational efficiency and to include a greater variety of functions. Thus the Christian Council started in the fall semester, 1949, with twenty-three members, part elected representatives from recognized religious undergraduate organizations and part appointed committee chairmen from the student body. By mid-terms, the following organizations were represented on the Council: Alpha Chi Epsilon, Episcopalian pre-theological society; Canterbury Club of Episcopalian students; the Chapel Choir; the Lehigh Christian Fellowship by an unofficial visiting representative; the Lutheran Student Fellowship of Bethlehem; the Pre-Theological Society; the Wesley and Westminster Fellowships of Bethlehem; and the Baptist Youth Fellowship of Bethlehem.

The committees were: Chapel; Conference on Religion; Discussions; Inter-Faith, including representatives from the Newman Club of Roman Catholic students and the Hillel Club of Jewish students; Publicity; Student Christian Movement; Visitation; Mental Health; and Social Action.

Officers for the fall semester: President, Alvord Beardslee; vice-president, Frank West; secretary, Richard Elrick; treasurer, Robert Baynum; faculty advisor, Chaplain George Bean. In February, Ray Hartman was elected president and Robert N. Taylor was elected vice-president to replace the two graduating officers.

The Council hopes to include the widest possible number of students as members of the various committees, with its goals including the naming of a representative in each living group to encourage chapel attendance and service activity, a heavy program of service work in the Allentown State Hospital, and eventual religious emphasis week, and careful consideration of brotherhood and other issues on the Lehigh campus.

In conjunction with Omicron Delta Kappa, the dedication of Sunday morning services to living groups was continued.

Cornucopia

"Cornucopia," the Lehigh Business Society, one of the more recent organizations at Lehigh, was established in the spring of 1948 by nine students in the College of Business Administration. Mr. Richard W. Smith of the Economics Department was chosen as its advisor. Since its inception, the society has come a long way in providing for its members a broader and more diversified program of business problems than they were normally accustomed. At the present time, the society consists of twenty-seven members, all of whom are from the business school.

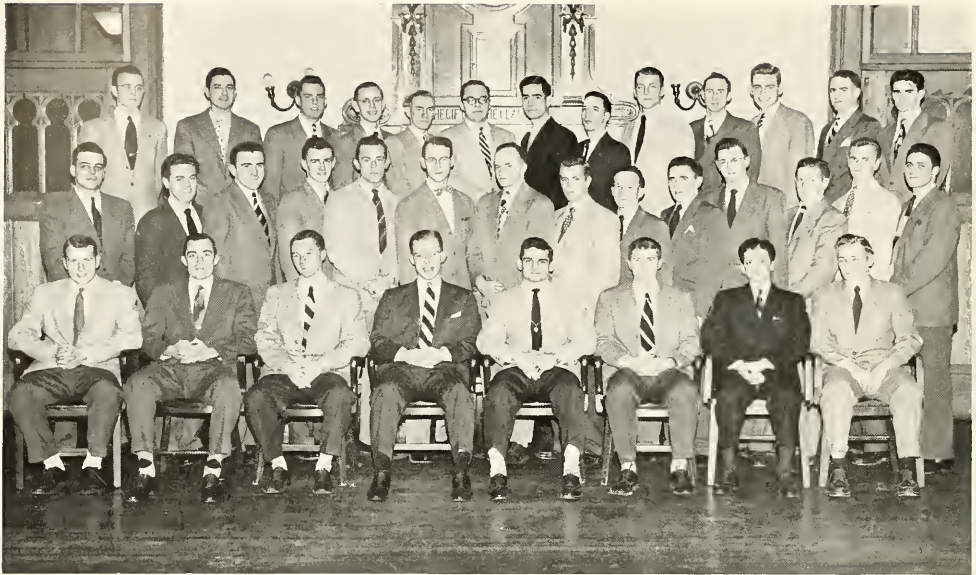

The name, "Cornucopia," was decided upon by the members, for "Cornucopia," according to Webster, meant "The horn of Amalthaea, or horn of plenty, an emblem of abundance." This was thought to be significant of the aims and ideals of the society.

With its very active membership, many constructive activities will be undertaken by the society in the ensuing years, with an ever-widening scope of business education being born.

Class of 1950

The Class of 1950 experienced an unceremonious birth with the gathering of the bulk of its members at Packard Auditorium in the Fall of 1946. These were unsettled days in college as they were in the rest of the world. It was not until the spring of our freshman year that we took formal steps of organization with the election of class officers. Early evidence of leadership resulted in the election of Eric R. Erikson, North Bellmore, N. Y., president; Dominic Navarro, Jr., Pittsburgh, vice-president; Cyril C. Baldwin, South Orange, N. J., secretary; and Leland E. Maines, Rutherford, N. J., treasurer.

During the ensuing year we found ourselves drawn closer together by a combination of classroom associations, athletic participation, social gatherings, and affiliated organizations. We gradually developed a pride in our more outstanding members. George A. LaSassa, Bethlehem, established himself as a talented and colorful athlete. Harold B. Meck, Jr., Shillington, Dick Kelsey, Sparta, N. J., and Eric R. Erikson were regulars on the championship wrestling team. Buck Wallace proved to be one of our fastest men with a mug of beer at the class picnics. We had many fellows who displayed great class spirit such as Vic Daub, whose activities lead to national recognition for him in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

For our junior year we choose the able leadership of Clifford C. Freund, Ledgewood, N. J., president; Thomas Q. Fisher, Philadelphia, vice-president; Cyril C. Baldwin, secretary; and Ronald J. Young, Packanack Lake, N. J., treasurer. We were fortunate to locate an outstanding social chairman in John F. Georgiadis, Bethlehem. The parties and dances which John and his committees promoted always seemed to be a little better than anything we had ever experienced of that nature before. The "Melody Hop" in the Spring of 1949 was one of the most unforgettable junior proms in the school's history. Class unity had reached a new high.

As the Class of 1949 faded into the outside world, we again turned to Eric Erikson to assume the role of leadership and guide us to even greater accomplishments during our senior year. Eric was to receive capable assistance of Alexander F. Smith, Reading, vice-president; Richard J. Snyder, West Orange, N. J., secretary; Robert E. Halfacre, Palmerston, treasurer. Dr. Gilbert E. Doan of the Metallurgical Department served as faculty advisor. The post-war athletic boom, a bacchanalian spirit for fun, and the honest desire on the part of our members to work hard when so called upon, made this a banner year for the Class of 1950.

The chief innovation to be introduced by our class was the establishment of graduation dances. Ford Pray, Bronxville, N. Y., originated the plan and the enthusiastic attendance at our February dance indicated that the event would become a tradition amongst future classes making graduation the memorable event it should be.

George LaSasso fulfilled his early promise by receiving the Varsity "L" Club award as the outstanding athlete of 1948-49. "Mike" Murray, Sayre, became the first winner of the Vincent J. "Pat" Pazetti award for football. Robert Numbers, Allentown, became a football player of national prominence by his recognition as center on many All-East and Little All-American teams. A plentitude of other athletic talent resulted in improved records for many other teams as well. John W. Jordan, Bloomfield, N. J., took over as president of Arcadia and did much for the propagation of University Meetings and student government. The social committee turned in a splendid job on the "Senior Ball" which was held during Fall Houseparty.

Finally, the Class of 1950 produced two lasting material accomplishments. The first of these, this 1950 EPITOME, was primarily for the benefit of our class. Our pride in this book is not without reason. The other, the Class Memorial Gift, was for our university. In full appreciation of the many benefits accruing to our class through the contributions of previous classes, we felt a keen desire to make a tangible contribution to Lehigh and its future classes. To implement this desire we installed the Class Insurance Program. This plan will reach fruition in 1970 and the gift which our class will donate at this time promises to be the largest ever presented by a graduation class. If this donation does reach this peak, it is because Lehigh made more out of us, man for man, than it was able to make, man for man, of any other class in its history.

As the third year of the Class of 1951's stay on South Mountain draws to a close, we see that the class still maintains the strength and fine spirit which has characterized the men of '51 since they first arrived here in 1947. As a whole the class has gained much this year. Contributing to this is the fact that new leaders have sprung up from our ranks to supplement the strength already recognized.

Class of 1951

One of the innovations which the class put into effect, the use of a council in self-government, has again met with success this year. Formed as a representative assembly of juniors from that group which signified its interest, it has acted as a cross-section of class opinion and a sounding board for ideas throughout the year. The council is not an executive body, that is, it does not make decisions; only the elected officers have the power to do that. But the council does help those elected officers to see the various situations from an overall standpoint. Naturally, in some cases, full class meetings are necessary, but the council is a great help in expediting routine matters. The council members were invaluable as the nuclei of the necessary committees for our class functions.

In addition to the old class stand-bys, some new faces came into the picture this year. Many juniors have found new interests and their effort was largely responsible for the success of our activities.

There are two main objectives of the work we do as a class. In providing entertainment and the opportunity for the men to work together for the class and Lehigh, we first are striving to bind the class of 1951 into a strong unit. We want the level of class interest high enough so that after graduation the men will remember '51 as a "great bunch of guys" and return year after year to get together with them. Only by giving every man the opportunity of joining in can we accomplish this goal. The second goal is a very present one—to put the class treasury far enough into the black that our graduation assessment will be substantially less than it has been in the past. Several new ideas have been discussed along this line and the most feasible have been used.

Outstanding among the Junior activities was the Monte Carlo party on March 25th. Vincent Lopez provided the music while hundreds of couples alternately danced and joined in the Riviera atmosphere. It was a new sort of party to Lehigh students and we feel it has earned a niche in the social calendar for future years.

Men of '51 have assumed much of the responsibility in Arcadia and the living group government this year. Some men who had just begun to air their talents at the end of the sophomore year have clearly shown their leadership ability and made definite places for themselves on campus. I.F.C. has been in the hands of capable juniors for a semester now. The service fraternities and musical organizations draw a good part of their manpower from 1951. And naturally enough, our class has earned many positions in the various honorary societies about the campus.

In the field of sports, men of '51 continue to be the backbone of several varsity teams as they have been, as they moved up as Sophomores. Football, soccer, lacrosse, basketball, and track all boast Junior strength. The grapplers and our unconquerable swimmers are both led by men who have a year to go.

As Juniors, the class has continued to gain in stature, individually and as a group, through every phase of life at Lehigh. There is no doubt that the class of '51 will leave its mark as one of the outstanding classes ever to have climbed the trail over South Mountain.

CLASS OF 1952 OFFICERS

Two years ago, there came to Lehigh a group of men who were to be recognized by the university as the Class of '52. Slowly, yet steadily these inexperienced strangers felt their way out of the darkness. They emerged into the light of college life, where they strove to learn, to make friends, and to live up to Lehigh tradition.

The Class of '52 was led by President Harry W. Stowers, Bluefield, W. Va., and vice-president Alonzo F. Haines, Pittsburgh, Pa. Assisting these officers was the Sophomore Cabinet. The Cabinet was composed of town men, dormitory men and fraternity men. These members were chosen because they showed unusual interest in classes and school activities, and because of their good positions on and off campus.

Ideas and suggestions were canvassed from the class members by the Cabinet and then brought to the class officers. The Cabinet then helped in accepting or rejecting the proposals. If an idea was accepted, the Cabinet was extremely valuable in its successful promotion.

The Class of '52 has shown its strength in many activities. The football, basketball, baseball, and tennis teams have had the support of the Sophomores. The leading scorers in soccer, ice hockey, swimming and wrestling are members of the Class of '52. Their leadership has been felt in many fraternities where they have taken on very responsible positions. There are many men in the class who engage in extra-curricular activities—the band, Brown and White, Glee Club, Brown Key Society, and many others. Geniuses are also present in the Sophomore class. Six men made a 4.00 average, and a total of thirty-seven were on the Dean's list.

On December 10, 1949, a winter scene covered the walls of the upper floor in Grace Hall. This was the Snowball, a welcome to the winter social season at Lehigh. The Lehigh Octet and Wally

Spots helped a hard working, thrifty Sophomore class stage a successful dance. The Lehigh students and their dates had an evening of fun and relaxation. The sophomores hope to make the Snowball a university tradition.

A strong alumni group is the aim of every organized class. By working together in sports, clubs, and other extra-curricular activities they gain unity. In order to reduce our Senior assessments, the Class of '52 will try to enlarge their treasury. If the Snowball can be used as an example of the class in action, then it is evident that the Sophomores have the necessary material with which to increase their treasury and further class spirit.

The Class of '52 is not just a conglomeration of athletes, spooks, and geniuses. They have their share of regular fellows, who do not seek campus glory, but without whose humor and energy the class would be dull. The sophomores have gotten a good start as a unified organization; they have developed spirit in their class and have helped keep the traditions at Lehigh. The Class of '52 is not satisfied with what it has accomplished and hopes to continue as a service to the student body, a source of satisfaction to itself, and a credit to the university.

Combined

The Combined Music Clubs boast of three fine musical organizations: the University Glee Club, the Collegians, and the Symphony Orchestra. The individual groups are distinct in their own fields of endeavor, but all are coordinated under one advisory group. The advisory committee is lead this year by Doug Carlton, who is assisted by the student directors of each unit and Professor William Schempf and Mr. George Ganz. The Combined Music Clubs, augmented by the band, make possible the excellent musical production staged every year known as the Spring Music Festival. Each group, although subordinated under one head, has its own individualities and accomplishments.

THE ORCHESTRA

The orchestra has had the perpetual problem of obtaining enough string players to create a well-balanced ensemble. The problem was solved this year by supplementing the campus group with local violinists, cellists, etc., with the result that two highly creditable concerts were given during the year. The first of these was held in Nativity Church Parish Auditorium, and featured Miss Mimi Gordon and Mrs. Schempf in a Mozart Double Piano Concerto. The emphasis in both concerts was on Pre-Bach music, much of which is neglected by larger orchestras. The orchestra again accompanied the popular Christmas Vesper Service, and assumed a major role in the Third Music Festival.

Officers of the Orchestra for the year 1949-50 are: Ward Cheney, Student Director; and Ted Liss, Assistant Student Director.

Personnel of the orchestra for this year in their respective groups are: Violins—Dr. Ferdinand P. Beer, Mrs. Ferdinand P. Beer, William R. Breck, Jr., Robert Byrne, Dr. Reuben Close, Henry J. Enright, Noel D. Eichorn, James S. Fulleylove, Frank J. Geosits, Jack J. Guy, Theodor A. Liss, Edgar T. Mertz, Frederick G. Oelgeschlager, Richard J. Toven, Leroy Yeager, Jr., George L. Ganz, Zoltan B. Biro, Walter F. Daney, Winfield Wavrek. Viola: Donald G. Long, Frank V. Palevicz, Floyd A. Nimson. Cello: Fred Harding, Dr. Kenneth Lamson, John L. Priebe, Jr., Paul O. Wavrek, Dean W. Robert Webb. Flute: Lewis K. Hosfeld. Oboe: Richard Smith, Jerome Greenberg. Clarinet: E. Ward Cheney, Robert Knox, Bassoon: James DeLancey, Ralph W. Woodring, Jr. French Horn: Donald R. Davis, Lee D. Peachey. Trumpet: Robert C. Huber, Richard J. Orford. Trombone:

Music Clubs

THE GLEE CLUB

Under the inspiring direction of Professor William Schempf, the Glee Club has risen from the status of "just another activity" to a very prominent position in the Lehigh picture. Any veteran member of the club will tell you that the opportunity of working under such a dynamic, enthusiastic director could not help but provide an experience that will be cherished long after graduation.

This year Professor Schempf, assisted by George Ganz, scheduled an ambitious series of events climaxed by the third annual Spring Music Festival. The first concert was held at Beaver College for Women on November 5th. There was a great deal of work to be done in the short time available before the Beaver program, with new songs to learn, and new members to break in.

The next project undertaken was the Christmas Candlelight Service performed in conjunction with the choir of the Moravian College for Women. One hundred and seventy-five voices participated, supported by a mixed ensemble of musicians from the University, and Lehigh Valley symphony orchestras.

January 20th, two buses carried the Glee Club to Wilkes-Barre where they sang for the benefit of the Prince of Peace Episcopal Church. Some of the members, arriving in Wilkes-Barre during the afternoon, were conducted on an interesting tour of the nearby coal mines.

Having built up an extensive repertoire during the fall semester, the spring saw the Glee Club engaged in an intensive round of public appearances at nearby high schools. In addition to these afternoon high school concerts, the club sang at the Salem Evangelical and Reformed Church in Emmaus.

During the months when the above mentioned concerts were given, the club was also learning the new music to be sung in the Spring Festival. The entire women's chorus of Beaver College, and 30 girls from the chorus of Moravian College took part in this year's Festival. Several combined rehearsals with Beaver were necessary, and the clubs took turns traveling to each other's schools to perfect the intricate routines. The production was given three times at Grace Hall before capacity crowds and the performance of such music as Robinson's "Testament of Freedom," and Tom Waring's "Deep Earth" gave all who participated a real feeling of accomplishment.

It is hoped that a degree of precedence has been established for future Lehigh Glee Clubs, so that students interested in joining the club will consistently be offered opportunities equal, or better than this year's members have had the good fortune to experience.

THE COLLEGIANS

Last year's graduation took a heavy toll of the Lehigh Collegians. The first semester was spent primarily in reorganization and filling vacancies. As the second semester progresses, rehearsals are being held for the dance band's role in the forthcoming spring concert.

THE CLIFF CLEFFS

As the newest musical organization at Lehigh, the Cliff Cleffs have made quite a name for themselves since their organization last fall. The ensemble consists of sixteen men: first tenors, Doug Adams, Bill Kelley, "Curley" Ward, and Jim Hood; second tenors, Bob Mantell, Lee Hauser, Bill Blocker, and Herb Hoover; baritones, Bill McCullough, Ed Ettinger, Jack McNab, and Bob Royce; basses, Rod Randall, Bill Kanenson, Harry Martin, and Cecil Jones.

In contrast to the straight glee-club-type of music, the Cliff Cleffs emphasize music of a more popular idiom such as "Winter Wonderland," "Caramba Samba," and the hopped-up arrangements of "Jingle Bells," and "Mary Had a Little Lamb." However, the Cliff Cleffs have shown great versatility in being able to arrange their programs for churches, banquets, pep rallies, dances, and high schools.

Under the direction of George Ganz the Cliff Cleffs have sung in New York, Harrisburg, Newark, Philadelphia, Bethlehem, and at many of the local colleges and high schools. In addition, they were featured in the Lehigh Music Festival, singing parts of "The Lehigh Fantasy," and "The Cliff Cleff Canoe," composed by the director, George Ganz.

Next year the Cliff Cleffs will be without the services of graduating seniors, Doug Adams (tenor soloist), Jim Hood, Lee Hauser, and Harry Martin. However, they will be replaced by four other fine voices to complete the smooth hushed-tone blend, a characteristic which has made the Cliff Cleffs the fine musical organization that it is.

Cosmopolitan Club

Authentic foreign dinners, discussions of problems of other lands and Sunday night shindigs at the Kappa Alpha Lodge—these are but some of the activities of one of Lehigh's most active clubs.

Organized to bring together foreign students and others of cosmopolitan mind, our club has stressed the social and intellectual interests of its members and friends.

Seven steaming hours in the kitchen of the Y.W.C.A. resulted in an exotic Chinese dinner prepared by several Chinese Club members. Sweet pork, and specially concocted roast beef, smothered in mushrooms, were a novelty. Background music added a professional touch to the showing of prize-winning home movies of Allentown's Trexler Park.

Talks on current world problems by faculty men: Dr. Godschall, Dr. Cowherd, and Dean Seidle, informal student-led discussions, and movies were typical of our Lamberton Hall meetings.

Skeptical at first, Kappa Alpha's brothers soon accustomed themselves to our monthly invasions of their home. Waltzes and sambas battled intermittently as our European and Latin American constituents sought to satisfy their varied tastes.

Everything from sour (brodo) to nuts (castagne arrostiti) was served in true native style at our Italian dinner. Candlelight and vino rosso created an atmosphere of congeniality that brought plaudits from our faculty, Moravian and Cedar Crest guests.

Cyanide

The responsibility of organizing the freshman class and instilling in them the true class spirit and unity rests with the junior class honorary society, Cyanide. In the past this has been largely done through freshmen regulations such as the wearing of the dink, building the bonfire before the Lafayette football game, and marching in the pajama parade. This year Cyanide started the idea of a freshman tug-of-war at the Lafayette freshman game and a freshman cheering section at football games.

During freshman orientation week, Cyanide sponsored an information booth in Drown Hall for the yearlings and also took part in the Arcadia program on extra-curricular activities. Cyanide also sponsored the freshman skits at the Lafayette pep rally and furthered the idea of freshman class unity in many different activity areas.

At present Cyanide membership consists of nineteen Juniors. Officers for the past year were James L. Gill, president; Edwin H. Hallberg, vice-president; Jack Vanderryn, secretary; and Charles W. Bowman, treasurer. Chaplain Bean is the faculty advisor and members of the new faculty circle are C. B. Campbell, S. Blaine Ewing, and Thomas H. Grainger.

Howard Eckfeldt Society

Delta Omicron Theta, the honorary debating society, completed another successful year. All undergraduates in the university are eligible to participate in the activities of the society. Points are given for this participation and upon acquiring the required number of points a man is elected into full membership.

The purposes of the Debate Society are to represent the university in intercollegiate debates, to provide an opportunity for interested students to develop their reasoning and speech abilities and to study issues of a contemporary nature.

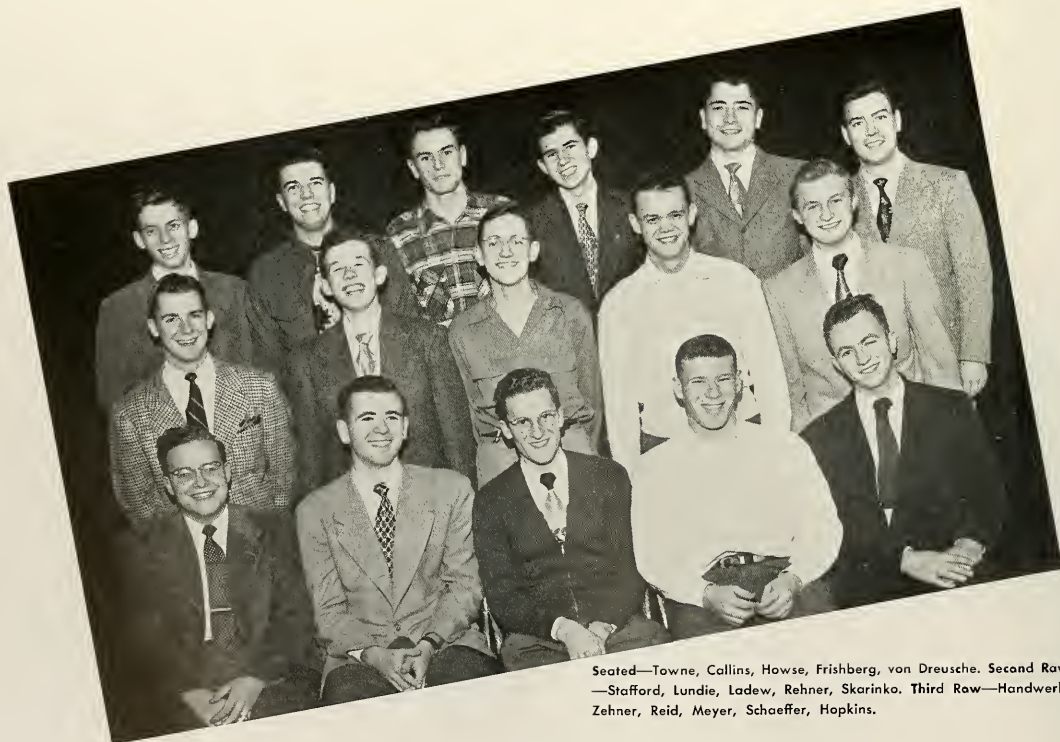

The highlight of the 1949-50 season was a discussion between Mr. Norman Thomas and Professor Aurie N. Dunlop on the national debate topic, which was "Should We Nationalize Our Basic Industries?" This discussion drew an audience of over 1200 people to Broughal Junior High School.

Other highlights included weekly forums over WLRN, public appearances before local organizations, fourteen intercollegiate debates and participation in the Penn State Convention, Benjamin Franklin Tournament and Brooklyn Tournament.

Officers for the 1949-50 season were:

PHILIP C. HOWSE	President
NEWTON FRISHBERG ..	Vice-president
JUSTIN K. McCARTHY	Secretary
JACK S. VANDERRYN	Treasurer
LAWRENCE E. COLLINS	Business Manager

Eta Kappa Nu is the honorary electrical engineering society, which was founded at the University of Illinois in 1904. Chi chapter was established at Lehigh University in 1926. Outstanding men are elected to Eta Kappa Nu from the baccalaureate courses in electrical engineering. Eligibility depends largely on records established during the freshman and sophomore years. Membership qualifications further include a good character and personality, and in participation in other activities on the campus.

The aim of Eta Kappa Nu is to assist its members throughout their lives in becoming better men in their chosen profession and better citizens. Another purpose of the organization is that its membership be a constructive force in improving the standards of the profession, the courses of instruction and the institutions where its chapters are established. To this end Chi chapter, in past years, has helped sponsor the furnishing of a reading room in Packard Laboratory and has combined with the other engineering societies in promoting the Engineer's Ball. Every year Chi chapter also presents a handbook to the highest ranking freshman enrolled in the electrical engineering curriculum.

The officers for the organization in the past year were:

RICHARD J. ORFORD President
DAVID ETTELMAN Vice-president
FRED PANASIUK, JR.

Flying Club

The Lehigh University Flying Club is in its fourth year of operation at Lehigh. In this period, 3500 hours of flying time have been logged; 26 members have received Private Pilot licenses—one member has obtained a Commercial Pilot license, and scores of student pilots have soloed—some learning to fly a plane before they could drive a car.

The Flying Club owns and operates a Cessna 140 airplane equipped for night flying, radio navigation, and instrument training. It is a first rate airplane which combines flying ease and safety with speed for cross-country flying.

The safety record of the Flying Club is without blemish; in its four years of operation, no one has ever been injured in or by the Club airplane.

The majority of members have had no piloting experience previous to joining the club. Requirements for membership have been only that the student have an interest in aviation.

The purpose of the Flying Club has been served in furthering aviation by making inexpensive flying and flight instruction available at the least possible cost to its members.

Being a member of the internationally known Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association, the Flying Club has been instrumental in influencing national aviation legislation. As a member of the Association of Northeastern Collegiate Flying Clubs, the Lehigh University Flying Club has won prizes at several intercollegiate airmeets and participated in breakfasts flights, intercollegiate social functions at Yale and Amherst, and provided its members with entertaining and educational movies at its Drown Hall headquarters during the past year.

Officers of the Flying Club for the past year were:

R. W. Hall Society

The R. W. Hall Society, although primarily a pre-medical organization, is open to all who are interested in Biology. It was founded in 1920 and named in honor of Dr. Robert W. Hall, the former head of the Biology Department.

The society holds monthly meetings and conducts numerous field trips to such places as the Allentown State Hospital, St. Luke's Hospital, and near-by Medical Schools. The usual speakers at our meetings are local physicians who highlight for the members some phase of their work, and members of the faculty. As often as possible, we like to have representatives from Medical Schools come to Lehigh to give advice to those interested in the Medical profession. The meetings are sometimes devoted to timely debates on topics such as "socialized medicine". Annually, the pre-medical students of the Lehigh Valley attend a banquet sponsored by one of the four colleges. This year it will be given by Moravian College for Men.

All of the above is done for "the purpose of encouraging among our members an interest in the medical profession, and in biology, including its allied subjects.

The officers for the current year are: Bruce Tapper, president; Harold Hoops, vice-president; Fred Ferber, treasurer; Charles Golden, secretary; and William Kanenson, activities chairman. Our faculty advisor is Dr. T. Grainger.

Interfraternity Council

In 1909, the Interfraternity Council was established at Lehigh University for the benefit of the fraternities as a whole. The men making up this council consist of two representatives from each fraternity at Lehigh. The senior representative has the power to vote on any matters brought up in the meeting, while the junior representatives act as an alternate and have the senior powers in case the senior representative is absent. Both men represent the ideas, opinions and plans of their individual chapters. From these ideas and plans have come the basis of the Council's activities throughout the years.

One of these plans has been the continued adoption of a Dutch boy under the Foster Parent Adoption Plan for War Children. This plan constitutes contributions for the welfare of this child of ours.

Similar to this adoption plan is the Christmas party given yearly for the children from the Bethlehem Boys' Club. This party is given each year just before the start of our Christmas vacation and constitutes ice cream, cake and presents for each child. The presents are donated by the individual houses and the I. F. C. absorbs the rest of the cost.

This year, for the second year in a row, the Interfraternity Council sponsored a Greek Weekend. The main event of the weekend was a banquet at the Hotel Bethlehem on Friday, February 24th. The principal speaker of the evening was Mr. MacGregor, past president of the National Interfraternity Council. Deans Wray Congdon, J. D. Leith, C. A. Seidle, and Chaplain G. M. Bean also spoke to the assembled pledges on fraternity life at Lehigh.

On Saturday night of Greek Weekend, the I. F. C. played host to the pledges of all the fraternities at a dance held in Grace Hall. The orchestra was excellent for a good dancing party.

For a number of years, both the I. F. C. and the Administration had considered overhauling the rushing rules. Last spring the system was officially changed. Previously it had been felt that under the existing rules, whereby the freshmen were rushed during the first few weeks of school, neither pledges nor fraternities were given a proper chance to consider the bids. Under the new system, which is now in effect, rushing is carried on during the first semester, over week-ends, and the bids go out the first Saturday of the second semester. In this manner both the pledges and the fraternities would have enough time to become well acquainted with each other to be able to consider bids with a free, open mind. The goal was achieved.

The houseparty dance, usually held during the fall semester under I. F. C. sponsorship, has been changed this year to the spring dance. Johnny Long and Claude Thornhill will be the two popular orchestras to provide the music for the gala affair.

During Homecoming Weekend, the I. F. C. continued its practice of awarding a trophy to the house which had the best outdoor display during the pre-Lafayette game week. The winner of the cup this year was Chi Psi Lodge with their clever use of popular magazines.

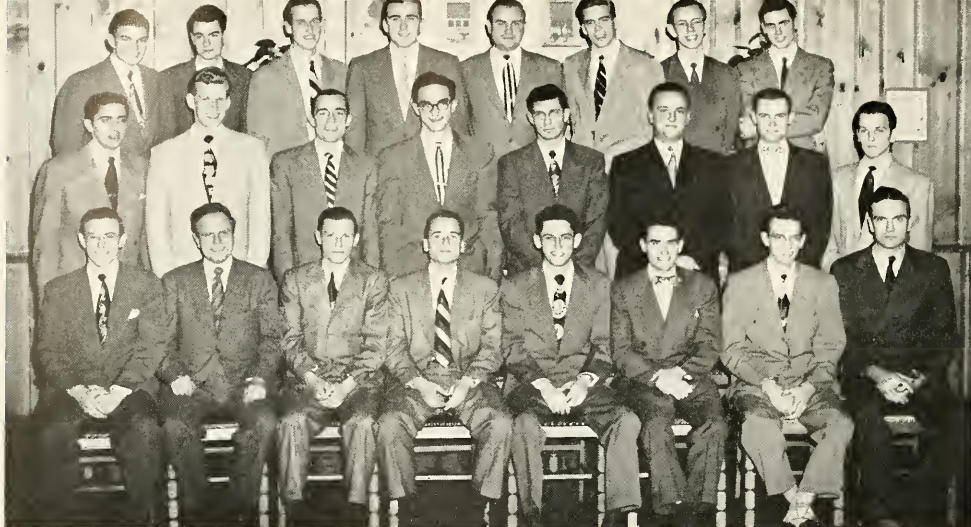

Officers of the Interfraternity Council who served during 1949 were:

Lambda Mu Sigma

During 1949-50, Lambda Mu Sigma, Lehigh's honorary marketing fraternity, continued in its activities to promote the ideals specified in its constitution—"furthering practical knowledge of marketing practices, promoting a spirit of closer friendship between faculty and student body, and furthering closer cooperation between student life and private enterprise."

To carry out these aims, Lambda Mu Sigma held monthly meetings, including dinner meetings and beer parties, and sponsored field trips to the New York Stock Exchange and the Mack Company in Allentown. Among the speakers who addressed the fraternity during the year were Mr. Orville F. Haas, Vice-president of the General Electric Company, and Mr. Curtis F. Williams, Executive Vice-president of the Pennsylvania Consumer Credit Association.

Members of Lambda Mu Sigma are selected on the basis of scholastic achievement in marketing subjects, and an interest in the marketing field. Although the fraternity was organized as recently as 1941, and inactive during the World War II, its alumni are already to be found throughout the fields of industry and marketing, and the organization is working toward national recognition.

The Metallurgical Society is open to all students of metallurgy and metallurgical engineering. On the third Thursday of each month the Society meets to hear leaders in the metallurgical industry speak on topics varying from technical talks, to the latest developments in a particular field, to talks on what various industries require of their metallurgists. Thus the Society supplements the student's textbook education, helps keep him abreast of and appreciative of the industrial world, and helps him to decide his field of endeavor upon graduation.

Among the speakers for the current year were Mr. Samuel Epstein, Research Engineer, Bethlehem Steel Company; Mr. C. H. Herty, Jr., Assistant to the Vice-President and Research Engineer for the Bethlehem Steel Company; Mr. Ernest Kirkendall, Secretary of the Institute of Metals Division of the A.I.M.E.; Mr. C. B. Newell, director of District 9 of the United Steelworkers Union, C.I.O.; Mr. W. M. Pierce, Assistant to the General Manager of the Technical Department of the New Jersey Zinc Company; Mr. R. Simons, Assistant Chief Metallurgist for the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation; and Mr. P. Wray, Products Engineer for the Carnegie-Illinois Steel Corporation.

In addition to serving refreshments at the close of each meeting, the Society has a Christmas banquet and a picnic each year. The Christmas banquet was held in the Hotel Bethlehem. Speakers for the occasion were Prof. Emeritus Bradley Stoughton and Ebb Caraway. The picnic is always held in the spring on Dr. Doan's farm.

Mustard and Cheese

This year Mustard and Cheese, Lehigh's honorary dramatic club, celebrated its sixty-fifth anniversary season. In lieu of this fact, the club undertook a larger program than usual by producing three major dramatic shows and running a series of foreign films in collaboration with the Romance Languages Department.

In honor of the club's founding by Richard Harding Davis, noted playwright and actor, Mustard and Cheese presented a comedy of his entitled "The Dictator." The play brought out a great deal of new talent among the incoming men, among whom Pete Conover was especially notable. Pete played the lead as "Brooke Travers." The set was of especial note in its fine design and construction due mainly to the efforts of the new technical advisor, Don Dickinson.

The remaining two major productions were "Androcles and the Lion," a famous play by G. Bernard Shaw, and "Command Decision," the noted war epic by Haines which gained most of its popularity as a motion picture. Mustard and Cheese was proud to have the honor of being one of a few theatrical groups given the rights to produce "Command Decision" for the first time on a college stage.

This year Mustard and Cheese once again participated in the comparatively new Eastern Pennsylvania College Theatre and Radio Conference. The conference is an organization aimed at creating greater social intercourse between dramatic clubs and departments of various schools. Lehigh was appointed the regional director for the conference this season.

The film program consisted of a series of French and English pictures which included "Beauty and the Beast," "Brief Encounter," "Volpone," "The Lady Vanishes," and "Mlle. Desiree."

Newman Club

The Newman Club is in its third year of "fostering the spiritual, intellectual, and social needs" of Catholic students at Lehigh.

With over 70 members the club is well on its way toward achieving its goal of enrolling all of the more than 400 Catholics at the university thanks to officers Bob Fay (president), John Bigatel, Carl Frensky, Joe Kelley, and Carl Bovankovich.

Activities for the first semester included: talks by our faculty advisor, Mr. Polewicz, on Cardinal Newman, and by Mr. Yuhl (of the chemistry department) on the need for the club, a candlelight initiation ceremony at Holy Infancy Church under the direction of Father Touhig, talks by Msgr. Fink on "The Conflict of Faith and Science," by Father Bennett on "Natural Law and Some Modern Questions," by Father Koob on "Miracles," and by Father Ristuscia on "Marriage," a Communion Breakfast, and a party for freshmen.

The club bears the name of John Henry Cardinal Newman whose contribution to the world of letters, Idea of a University, would be sufficient to give him the stature needed by one whose name connotes direction in college education. Following is the prayer of Cardinal Newman and the club:

May Christ support us all the day long, till the shadows lengthen, and the evening comes, and the busy world is hushed, and the fever of life is o'er, and our work is done. Then in His mercy may He give us a safe lodging, and a holy rest, and peace at the last. Amen.

Newtonian Society

The Newtonian Society, one of the few honorary societies on the freshman level, was founded at Lehigh in 1927 by two members of the Mathematics Department. At the time its membership was limited to mathematics majors who had a 3.5 average or better in freshman math.

Like many clubs the Newtonian Society became inactive during the war years, but in the fall of 1946 the society was reformed. At the time the constitution was revised to include business and engineering freshmen among those eligible for membership.

The purposes of the society are to promote interest in math among the members of the freshman class, to further friendship among students and faculty members, and to provide opportunity for intellectual activity outside of the classroom.

At each monthly meeting a guest speaker, usually a faculty member, is invited to speak informally on a topic of his choice. Topics for the past year have included theory of numbers, astrology.

Members of the society for the year 1949-50: S. E. Aungst, R. H. Banta, J. F. Barteau, N. L. Cohen, D. A. Degraff, J. A. Diaz, C. H. Doty, R. Ellis, A. W. Field, N. A. Fisher, E. L. Fogelman, J. J. Omicron Delta Kappa

The Omicron Delta Kappa Society, founded in 1914 at Washington and Lee University, was the first of all national college honor societies for men to accord recognition to the importance of leadership in the field of collegiate extra-curricular work.

Membership in the society is elective upon application by undergraduates, and elective upon nomination for faculty, administration, and alumni. Membership is based upon meritorious attainments in the five basic phases of campus life: scholarship, athletics, social and religious affairs, publications, and speech, music, radio, dramatic and fine arts. Thus Omicron Delta Kappa recognizes high standard attainments by all members of the University family and provides for a common meeting ground, where, through informed and frank discussion, improvement in faculty-student relationships may be fostered and projects for the betterment of university life carried out.

In spring, 1949, Douglas L. Carlton, Robert W. Courtney, Eric R. Erikson, Clifford C. Freund, Leland E. Maines, Alexander F. Smith, Edwin A. Wallace, and Professors William A. Aiken, Albert A. Rights, and William H. Schempf were taken into the Society. As pledge duties each undergraduate presented suggestions for the future of the University Meeting, a project instituted by the Xi Circle under the leadership of E. Kenneth Spoor. Alvord M. Beardslee was elected president for the fall semester 1949, Edwin Walloce, vice-president and chairman for the University Meeting, Dean J. D. Leith, secretary, Clifford C. Freund, treasurer, and Professor Aiken, advisor.

During the fall semester Cyril C. Baldwin, Victor R. Daub, James L. Gill, John W. Jordan, John J. Martin, Herbert C. Hoover, Jr., Charles E. Haltenhoff, Ferris M. Saydah, and Robert L. Smith were taken into the society. Each presented an outline for a new project for the Circle; orientation of freshmen into university life, clarification of the calendar of events and meetings, a central mail-box system, and the University archives were the chief concerns. For the spring, Douglas Carlton was elected president, Alexander Smith, vice-president, and Victor Daub, treasurer.

A joint Omicron Delta Kappa—Arcadia committee carried out the Third University Meeting, on Success, December 19th, and planned for subsequent meetings. The first two meetings had been administered entirely by O.D.K.—on the Function of the University, and the Cut System. Speakers at the Meetings included Vice-president Smiley, Trustee Buchanan, and faculty members and students.

Phi Alpha Theta

Phi Alpha Theta, a National Honor Society organized "to encourage the study of history" chartered the Alpha Alpha Chapter at Lehigh in 1940. Qualifications for undergraduate membership at Lehigh include: junior or senior standing; evidence of interest in the study of history; a 3.5 average in at least twelve hours of history and government; at least a 3.0 average in two-thirds of all other work. Graduate students and faculty may become members of Phi Alpha Theta.

The membership for 1949-1950 was as follows: Dr. George D. Harmon, Faculty Adviser, Dr. Lawrence H. Gipson, James E. Adams, Dr. William A. Aiken, the Rev. George M. Bean, Alvord M. Beardslee, Dr. Robert A. Bream, Clarence B. Campbell, Dr. Raymond G. Cowherd, Mr. George B. Curtis, Walter F. Daney, the Rev. John Daniel, James D. Downs, Paul R. Evans, Paul J. Franz, Jr., Newton Frishberg, Garret L. Greene, John Haight, Jr., George Howatt, Rheiner T. Hutchins, II, Dr. George W. Kyte, the Rev. William J. Leifeld, Justin K. McCarthy, James W. McGeedy, James D. Mack, Randolph B. McMullen, John P. Magagna, Dr. Joseph A. Maurer, Fred W. Meuter, Samuel H. Missimer, David H. Partington, Theodore P. Pidus, Paul C. Rausch, Forrest G. Schaeffer, Richard B. Seals, Dean Charles A. Seidle, Richard W. Spalding, Lloyd C.

Taylor, Stephen H. Temoshok, Dr. Rocco J. Tresolini, Glenn Weaver, Richard F. Weikel, Jordan W. Wenberg, Robert L. Wilson.

At the November meeting the members heard a panel on whether a bill restricting Communist activities in America should be enacted. After the January 12 initiation Dr. Swain, of Muhlenberg College, spoke on "Where Do We Go from Here?" In February Mr. Patrick White spoke on British Socialism. On March 7 Phi Alpha Theta joined with Pi Gamma Mu and the Citizens' Committee of Bethlehem in sponsoring a meeting to discuss the Hoover Commission Report. At the May meeting Dr. Raymond S. Haupt, President of Moravian College and Theological Seminary, spoke on certain phases of archeology.

Officers for the year 1949-1950 were:

Phi Beta Kappa, the oldest of all Greek letter fraternities, was founded at William and Mary College, in Williamsburg, Va., in 1776. It was originally a social and literary society, but comparatively early in its history it developed into an honorary fraternity which gives recognition to undergraduate students who have excelled in studies designed principally to lead to a knowledge, understanding and appreciation of the natural and social world in which we live.

During the first century of its existence, the growth of the fraternity was slow. By 1881 there were twenty active chapters. The individual chapters were located in the northeastern section of the United States and were largely autonomous. In 1883 the national organization, the United Chapters of Phi Beta Kappa, was established with the purpose of effecting a closer union between the chapters and of assuring high and uniform standards in the chartering of new chapters and in the election of members. Today there are 151 chapters, spread throughout the whole country.

Membership in Phi Beta Kappa has long been recognized as one of the outstanding scholastic honors which a student may receive. The influence of the fraternity has done much to raise the standards of American collegiate education.

The Beta Chapter of Pennsylvania was installed at Lehigh in April, 1887, through the influence of several members of the faculty who themselves belonged to the Society and felt the need for its influence on the Lehigh campus. Membership is offered each year to outstanding seniors who have shown unusual excellence in liberal studies. The task of selecting new members falls upon a chapter council of faculty members. Besides selecting men from the Arts and Business Colleges and the curricula in chemistry and physics, the council may, in any one academic year, offer membership to not more than four seniors from the technical curricula.

Phi Beta Kappa

In April, 1949, the following seniors, who were due to graduate in the summer of 1949, were formally initiated into membership:

Lionel P. Adda	Earl J. Lambert
John F. Ahern	Francis L. Meinhofer
Alfred H. Aitken	Charles W. Nicholls
Franklin W. Armstrong	James Overmeyer
John J. Avey	Karl D. Rittenhouse
Layton E. Butts	Jerome G. Jacobsen, Jr.
Richard P. Carroll	David C. Schubert
Robert P. Dorang	Frank G. Shaputnic
William B. Eagleson, Jr.	Warren L. Smith
Alvin H. Fisher, Jr.	Richard S. Stemler
Eugene B. Gallagher	George R. Vogt
Richard L. Hart	James H. Vogelsong
Meade M. Hower	Robert E. Hughes
Carl E. Kleckner	Valerio R. Hunt

Robert D. Wallick

The following, from the group due to graduate in February, 1950, were initiated in December, 1949:

Alvord M. Beardslee	Herbert K. Schnall
David L. Boyer	James A. Smith
Robert J. Drack	Wesley R. Smith
Harold M. Foster	Richard W. Spalding
Rheiner T. Hutchins, III	John W. Way
Andrew Rakachy	Frank E. West

The dinner meeting in honor of the April initiates was addressed by Prof. Lewis W. Beck, of the Department of Philosophy. He spoke on the subject: "Long Range Strategic Planning for the Social Sciences." Prof. William A. Aiken, of the Department of History and Government, spoke at the December dinner on the theme: "Some dreams that could come true."

Phi Eta Sigma

The Lehigh chapter of Phi Eta Sigma, national freshman honorary society, has this year finally managed to pull itself free of all war and post-war doldrums. Interest in the organization has been greatly revived, and Phi Eta Sigma is now taking an active part around the campus.

In September we opened the year by personally contacting each member of the class of 1953 through distribution of "Hints on How to Study" pamphlets. We also informed each of Lehigh's new students at that time of the purpose of our fraternity—to aid, stimulate, and recognize freshmen along scholastic lines.

Plans for awarding the Phi Eta Sigma scholarship cup, which has not been awarded since the war, have been made and will be carried out next fall. The winning group will be awarded a permanent certificate of award, to be donated by Professor H. V. Anderson, honorary member and faculty advisor of the chapter.

This year, for the first time, Phi Eta Sigma worked with Arcadia in running the Faculty Evaluation program at the end of each semester. By assisting along this line we have been able both to help ensure the success of the program and also to enable many freshmen and sophomores to become a part of the Lehigh student government.

We hope that each year from now we will be able to enlarge this list of activities. At any rate, we feel that we have gotten off to a good start and do not intend to stop.

The Lehigh University chapter, the Pennsylvania Omicron of Pi Gamma Mu, national Social Science honorary, was organized on the Lehigh campus May 7, 1948, under the leadership of Professor W. Leon Godshall, Chancellor of the Eastern Region. National President S. Howard Patterson of the University of Pennsylvania launched the new chapter; and Prof. Godshall, as chairman, announced the selection of John Christie as president, John W. Maxwell as secretary-treasurer, and Professor Raymond G. Cowherd as faculty advisor. The Pennsylvania Omicron chapter has as its objectives the encouragement and recognition of scholarly achievement in, and effective synthesis of, the various branches of social science.

The first meeting of the year consisted of a panel discussion on "The Future of the Republican Party."

In later meetings, Dr. Boyd of the University of Atlanta gave a talk on "Southern Politics," and later on co-sponsored a symposium on the "Hoover Report" to which the public was invited. The chapter was given an award for having the best program for the academic year 1948-1949 by the National Council of Pi Gamma Mu.

Officers of the society for the year 1949-1950 were:

Pi Mu Epsilon

Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics fraternity, annually elects to membership upperclassmen who have demonstrated outstanding ability and interest in mathematics. The society strives not only to honor deserving students, but to stimulate widespread interest in mathematics.

The Pennsylvania Gamma chapter was installed at Lehigh University in 1929. Regular meetings are held throughout the year with a lecture and discussion. Topics considered during the past year included "Number Theory," "Vector Analysis," "A Special Theory of Relativity," "Nomogram Construction," and "Three Kinds of Relativity."

Undergraduate members of the fraternity for the current year are: R. J. Orford, J. S. Fulleylove, A. B. Cristy, C. M. Close, L. P. Adda, H. S. Arnold, R. R. Bast, R. A. Baker, J. H. Bond, Jr., W. G. Pi Tau Sigma

The Lehigh Theta chapter of Pi Tau Sigma, ninth chapter to be founded since the society began in 1915, was formally instituted in 1927.

The purpose of Pi Tau Sigma is to foster the high ideals of the engineering profession, to stimulate interest in coordinate departmental activities, to promote the mutual professional welfare of its members, and to develop in students of mechanical engineering the attributes necessary for effective leadership and the assumption of the responsibilities of a citizen in a democracy. Mechanical and industrial engineers, who show real interest and leadership qualities, are selected for membership in Pi Tau Sigma.

The highlight of the year was the Annual National Convention of Pi Tau Sigma, which was held at Lehigh on October 20, 21, and 22. The Lehigh Theta chapter, as host to 120 delegates from 51 colleges of the nation, planned the events of the three day convention. The convention was opened by an informal stag party held at the Colonnade on the evening of October 20. Business sessions were called to order by President B. H. Jennings of Northwestern University the morning of October 21. After a luncheon at Lamberton Hall the delegates spent the afternoon on inspection trips to Western Electric, Mack Truck Company, and Laros Silk Company. The convention was climaxed by a banquet at Hotel Bethlehem. Professor Emeritus F. V. Larkin, former Head of the Mechanical Engineering Department at Lehigh and former vice-president of Pi Tau Sigma, was the toastmaster and Mr. W. D. Teague was the featured speaker. Mr. Teague, a prominent industrial designer, was initiated as an honorary member of the Lehigh Theta chapter. Business sessions were concluded on October 22.

The Pi Tau Sigma Lounge in Packard Laboratory, which is furnished and maintained by the Lehigh Theta chapter, was renovated during the recent Christmas holidays. The lounge is open to all students for relaxation and study during the day and to all organizations for meetings and smokers during the evening. A recent addition to the lounge was Dr. Larkin's portrait, which was presented to him by the Lehigh Theta chapter upon his resignation as Head of the Mechanical Engineering Department in 1948.

In the spring, Pi Tau Sigma, in conjunction with Tau Beta Pi and Eta Kappa Nu, sponsored the annual Engineer's Ball.

The chapter awards a "Mechanical Engineer's Handbook" to the high-ranking mechanical engineering student at the end of the freshman year, and takes an active interest in the activities of the Lehigh Student Branch of A.S.M.E.

Scabbard and Blade

Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military society for advanced R.O.T.C. students, was founded in 1905 by five cadet officers in the University of Wisconsin Corps of Cadets. The national organization now consists of 96 chapters with a membership of approximately 47,500 men. The purpose of the society is to unite in closer relationship the military departments of American colleges and universities, to preserve and develop qualities of good and efficient officers, to prepare its members to take a more active part in military affairs and to spread intelligent information concerning the military requirements of our country.

Company "H" of the Third Regiment was founded at Lehigh in 1922. In addition to the annual initiation banquet, meetings are held bi-weekly between business and social meetings. The social meetings usually consist of a discussion led by a guest speaker and concluded with an informal gathering. The Society acts with Pershing Rifles as co-sponsor of the annual Military Ball. The Society also awards a trophy to the outstanding military student each year.

Members of Scabbard and Blade for the year 1949-50 are: John H. Bond, Jr., Charles W. Bowman, Albert F. Bryniarski, Gene Chovanes, William Clayton, David T. Cummings, Chester Czepyha, Harry Dowling, Henry J. Enright, Daniel Jackson, David C. Lyman, Richard H. Malanaphy, Frederick Meuter, John Michel, Henry Needles, Morris R. Nelson, Harold M. Tau Beta Pi

The Tau Beta Pi Association, national engineering honorary society, was founded at Lehigh University in 1885 by Edward H. Williams, head of the department of mining engineering. Dr. Williams' work in conceiving and organizing the society was memorialized in 1930 by the erection of a bronze tablet bearing his likeness in front of Williams' Hall on the Lehigh Campus.

There are at present 86 active student chapters of Tau Beta Pi and 26 alumni chapters throughout the country. Tau Beta Pi fellowship grants and student loans are made available to student members through the national offices of the association.

Requirements for election to Tau Beta Pi include scholastic achievement that must place the candidate in the upper eighth of his class if a junior and the upper fifth for seniors. Election is by vote of the active members of the chapter and participation in extra-curricular activities is a necessary factor.

The Pennsylvania Alpha Chapter of Tau Beta Pi lists 45 student members and 4 faculty advisors. Chapter activities include conducting an annual class in the operation of the slide rule for freshman engineering students and the award of an engineers' handbook or an equivalent cash prize to the highest ranking engineering student in the freshman class.

Officers of the fraternity for the 1949-1950 year are:

- JAMES S. FULLEYLOVE President
- DOUGLAS L. CARLTON Vice-president

Town Council

Town Council made great strides forward when it adopted a new constitution in February, 1950, which authorized the creation of a Section Representative plan, whereby there would be a Board of Representatives which would conduct the business of Town Council. These representatives would be chosen by the members of the geographical division of town in which they live. Vita Scriptunas has been a guiding spirit in the establishment of this board.

Socially, Town Council undertook greater things this year. The traditional Houseparty Square Dance has moved into the lower floor of Grace Hall, having outgrown its former quarters in Drown Hall, and proving itself a great success among members and non-members of Town Council. The Council also ran some dances with live music. With two dances to the music of Rich Parker and his Orchestra, we felt we were getting into high society.

Town Council meetings have seen a good number of movies for the entertainment of the membership. At these meetings fun and good fellowship prevail, and refreshments are provided by a committee headed by Don Keeler.

This year saw a good bit of publicity for Town Council in the Brown and White and elsewhere for which we are indebted to the hard work of Joe Pongracz, our new vice-president.

Town Council membership soared to an all-time high this past fall when it reached 582, but with a great many of the T. C. regulars getting out in February it fell to about three hundred for the Spring.

Town Council lost its Town Carner in Packard Lab last fall but the boys seem to have found someplace to rest their feet while nuzzling the feedbag.

Town men are proud to claim that one of the greatest of them all, Bob Courtney, was elected to Arcadia and is treasurer of the organization, while another Town, man Don Miller, is chairman of the Arcadia elections committee.

Town sports go on and more men are getting into them, with particular emphasis seeming to be on Touch Football and Softball. Walt Smiley has done a good job of keeping the boys informed and on seeing that Town teams are not overlooked in the scheduling of games.

Officers of Town Council for the year 1949-1950 are:

ALFRED W. PETTIT	President
JOHN UNVER	Vice-president
HENRY J. ENRIGHT	Secretary
RICHARD J. PARKER	Treasurer

Varsity "L" Club

The Varsity "L" Club was first founded at Lehigh in December, 1940 by the captains of all the athletic teams at Lehigh for the purpose of stimulating undergraduate interest in athletics and serving as continuing body of inquiry into undergraduate interests and needs. The sole requirement for membership is the possession of a varsity letter in one of Lehigh's varsity sports. In 1943 the club was inactivated and remained so until September, 1946. Since that time the organization has been in continuous operation with a membership of one hundred and thirty.

Indirectly the club is able to exert a great deal of influence on athletic policy and action through the close association of its members with the athletic department as members of the athletic teams. More directly, however, the club through its representation on the University's Athletic Committee has been instrumental in having lacrosse and other sports raised to a varsity level. It was also largely through the efforts of the Varsity "L" Club that a new code of regulations was instituted for varsity letter requirements.

In order to bolster the club treasury, members acted as salesmen of programs at the home football games.

Socially, the club holds two parties each year, one in the fall and another in the spring. This year's fall party was a Smoker at Joe Kinney's, and in the spring a picnic was held.

Pi Delta Epsilon

Pi Delta Epsilon, national honorary journalism fraternity, was founded at Syracuse University in 1909. The organization arrived on the Lehigh campus in 1920 and is now active in colleges and universities throughout the country.

Pi Delta Epsilon is devoted to the betterment of college publications. It is organized to provide the undergraduates for opportunities in this field. Meetings are held where students discuss publications problems and try to effect a solution. The Lehigh Chapter, along with other chapters throughout the country, strive to bring closer and more harmonious relations among the school publications. Through this closer relationship many differences can be overcome and the campus publications improved without the need of faculty or administrative interference. All editors and business managers of campus publications are automatically eligible for membership and members of the various staffs are admitted on a point system.

Interdormitory Council

The Inter-dormitory Council was formed in 1938 when Richard's House was added to the dormitory system and it became apparent that a governing body for the dormitories was needed. Since that time it has functioned continuously with the exception of the war years as the chief force for unity and harmony within the dormitory system.

In the main, the purpose of the council is fourfold; to provide a higher tribunal in which dormitory matters may be discussed, to carry on and develop more fully dormitory social and intramural functions, to work for a more cohesive and cooperative relationship among dormitory men, and to serve as a coordinating body between the dormitories and the university.

The major consideration before the council this year was the administration of the freshmen who are now required to live in the dormitories for their first year. The majority of the many new problems arising from this situation were solved quite ably by the council.

The dormitory constitution provides for the election in each section of a president, secretary-treasurer, athletic manager, sophomore representative, and scholastic chairman. The duties of the president are to enforce the regulations set down by the section, the Inter-dormitory Council, the Dean's office, and the university. The scope of activities of the secretary-treasurer is mainly the collection of dues and the management of section funds. The dues which are collected from all dormitory residents make up the major portion of the income of the council. These funds in turn are used for dances, Houseparty breakfasts, Epitome assessments, and other special events. The Inter-dormitory Council can report a healthy financial condition this year.

The athletic manager of each section makes arrangements for contests and encourages the section's participation in athletics. The Inter-dormitory Council encourages interest in sports by presenting trophies in the form of plaques or cups to the sections which win in intramural contests in basketball, football, softball and other dormitory sports. The distribution of these athletic awards was accomplished for the second time since the war.

The duty of the sophomore representative is to organize and direct the freshmen in carrying out their duties and to enforce their conformity to all freshmen regulations. The scholastic chairman, by advice and assistance, aids in maintaining a high academic average of the section and its members. The Inter-dormitory Council also encourages good study habits by awarding a cup to the section with the highest scholastic average of the year.

From among the section presidents a house president is chosen whose duties are to coordinate and to assume general administrative authority in actions approved by the various sections for the benefit of the house as a whole. The success of the dormitory house-parties this year was due in large measure to the house presidents who arranged for parties and dances in the lounges. The house presidents this year were: Paul Fett, Dravo House; Robert Perry, Drinker House; Joseph Kelly, Price Hall; Joseph Deal, Richard's House; and Harry Rush of Taylor Hall.

Membership in the Inter-dormitory Council includes all section presidents, house presidents, and officers of the council. At present, the council consists of thirty-three members.

The officers of the Council for this year were:

DAVID KLADIVKO President

PAUL H. FETT Vice-president

JAMES B. GUDIKUNST Secretary

WILLIAM C. MURPHY Treasurer

DEAN J. D. LEITH ... Faculty Advisor

The major portion of the work of the council is shouldered by the president, who must see that all matters relating to the dormitories come before the council. This requires close cooperation with the administration, Arcadia, the house presidents, and at times the Interfraternity Council. In these matters he is assisted by the vice-president. Besides keeping detailed accounts of the minutes of the meetings, the secretary carries on all necessary correspondence, while the treasurer, of course, maintains a permanent financial journal open to audit at all times and handles all collections and expenditures of money.

Much of the work of the council is done by committees which formulate plans and present them to the council for approval at the regular meetings. This procedure provides for greater efficiency in the work of the council. The chairmen of the various committees appointed by the president were: Robert Heim, Lamberton Hall Committee; Donald Drack, Athletic Awards committee; Victor Daub, Concessions committee; and Robert Perry, Dormitory Competition committee. A discipline and freshmen pledge committee takes care of disputes over discipline.

Dravo A-1

Dravo A-1 lost some of its flash this year when several of the old party-boys joined fraternities, including erstwhile president "Diz" Desnoyers, but Ken Kircher has taken over the reins and the situation is well out-of-hand.

An influx of freshmen has probably accounted for some of the quiet which may be found occasionally, but one may still stir up a poker game in the lounge or start a party rolling in "The Monster Room." The freshmen have learned fast, though, and the old men of the section are always ready to mold some aspiring engineer into a clean-cut business or arts man.

Of course, the focal point of life in the section is inter-dormitory sports and we've remained undefeated in several of them—until another team finally showed up. We're always in there pitching, though ("Wait till next year!"—our bottle cry), under the leadership of coach Willie Kester.

Other extra-curricular activities, too, receive a good backing from A-1—remember Houseparty Weekend, Lafayette game weekend, et al?

So A-1 rolls on, bigger and better all the time, thanks to the men that inhabit her, men such as Walt Tiedemann, our senior; Dick Mould, our freshman counselor; and all the others, large and small.

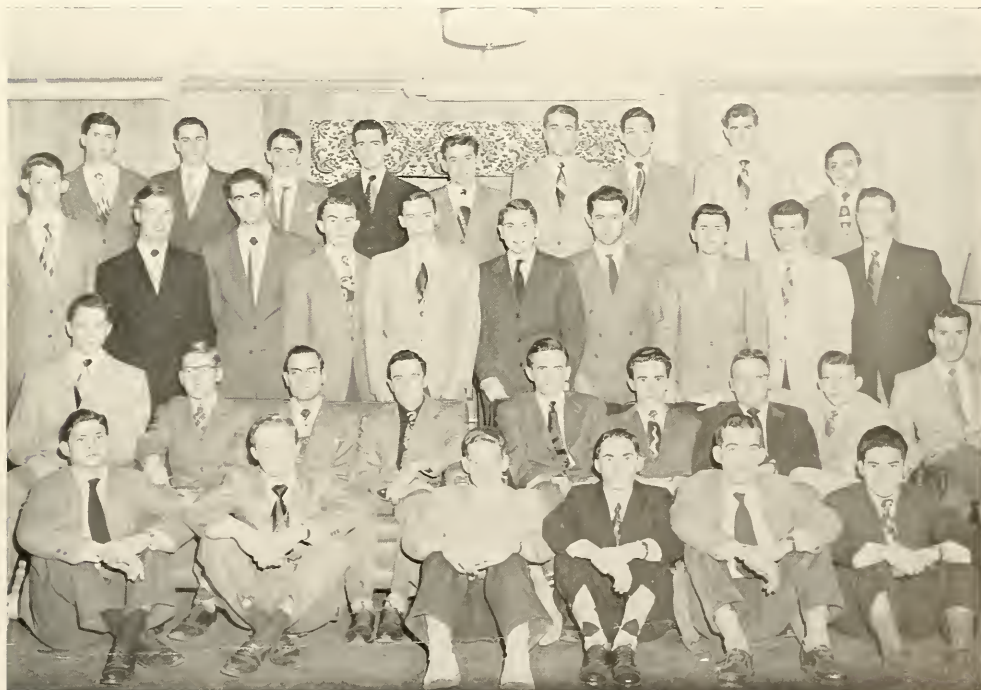

Dravo A-2

This semester will mark the beginning of the normal four-year turnover for Dravo A-2. Rodg Daniels, who has been our president for the past year, will graduate in June.

This year, for the first time, there was a majority of Freshmen living in the section which had it in a confused state for several weeks, making Rodg's job that much tougher. The fact that the third floor was overrun by the newcomers was kept secret from them as long as possible. However, by the Lafayette weekend, we were again a well-integrated group with those nightly lineups at the phone, early morning bull sessions, and the Frosh forgetting their duties. It wasn't until the first ice storm that the unwary novices were in evidence again as they slid down the Dravo ski slides in many unorthodox positions.

Rodg was the only upperclassman when Dravo was opened for occupancy in February, 1948. At that time we weren't bothered with the squabbles over the payment for "damages," or in a perpetual argument with authorities about getting more heat up to the wind-bueted corner of Dravo House. We'll always remember what it meant to be at the end of the steam line. In this time, we haven't done anything spectacular in the line of sports, but we have been improving.

Drava

The lads in our section spent their first few weeks getting accustomed to their new situation—the freshmen to this thing called college life, and the old members to the harde of new faces in the dorm. The process was neither as long or as dreadful as we had anticipated and soon we were right back in the routine. As a section our first activity was in the field of football, and as in all intramural sports B-1 was strong in spirit but often weak in flesh. We were always well represented, and well lead, thanks to Roger Weiss and the Whip.

All-to-soon we were greatly absorbed in slide rules, ten minute quizzes and hurdles. Scholastically we have a rather commendable record many of us making the Dean's list. Nevertheless there was great wailing and gnashing of teeth following the issuing of "valentines". Many of us were in extra-curricular activities around the campus. WLRN was crowded with B-1 men. The glee club, chess club and many others had our services. Of course there were many other activities that enticed us, such as pick-up football, and baseball on the back drive, golf in the halls, and various card games.

Only one of our number graduated in February, Tom McGrath received his precious sheepskin and we looked on and hoped.

Dravo

B-2

High in the topmost parts of Dravo House live the boys of Section B-2. A hardy lot are we, and, except for an occasional case of the bends, we have become inured to our frequent sojourns into the rarefied atmosphere of the upper regions. Perched on our lofty throne, we daily view the passing parade of dogs, students, and more dogs. But the view has its price, exacted in the blood, sweat, and tears expended on the stairs that reach up to our lordly domain.

A rather motley crew, we represent a fair cross section of Lehigh students, running all the way from E.E.'s to business men, with even an Arts man sprinkled here and there. We are well represented in intra-mural and freshman sports, and eagerly participate in such other activities as hallway wrestling, Coke bottle bowling, and penny matching.

Nor are we to be outdone when it comes to campus social life. Every houseparty our section blossoms forth with wine, women, and song, all mixed in the proper proportions as only a Lehigh man knows how, while everything is kept under control through the valiant efforts of our president, Bob (Slim) Heim.

The second year of its existence did not produce any noticeable innovations in the character of section C-1. Despite a change in membership amounting to slightly over half of its capacity of forty-six members, it is still worthy of the title, "The Atomic Section." The freshmen as well as the several upper-classmen who were new in the section this year contributed only constructively to the tradition which provides the foundation for this title of obvious implications. Section parties, for some unknown reason, are frowned upon, but the section contains almost a perpetual spirit of party sociability.

The section accommodates both extremes of tranquility and turmoil; and because of the lulls in the latter extreme, the members find sufficient time for studies, intramural sports, and other forms of extra-curricular activities. In matters of scholarship the section has a reputable record. Intramural sports provided an outlet for some of the "Atomic" qualities. While being hampered by injuries and absences, the section football team had a rather good season, mared by one fatal setback. The ultimate success of the basketball team was predetermined from the first game to the final one which brought the championship to C-1.

Comprising by chance the three lower floors of the right wing of Dravo House, the position of the section is as conspicuous as its reputation.

Dravo

C-1

High on the side of South Mountain there stands Drava House. Just under the roof of this non ivy-covered edifice you will come across Section C-2. A small section—only 31 men—it has distinguished itself in many ways.

Scholastically the section has always done well and this past fall semester was no exception. It placed 7th among the dorm sections with a 2.34 and about 15th out of all the living groups.

As in all dorm sections frosh predominated and they were quite active. Several of them were out for freshman football, swimming, and baseball. Also they participated in the activities of WLRN, Mustard and Cheese, the Glee Club, and the Music Festival to name a few.

Among the upper classmen there was Elmer Richards on the varsity swimming team, Homer Frankhouser on the football team, and Harry Wells, Harvey Muller, and Don Ort in the Glee Club.

Larry Martin was a very capable freshman counsellor and since his graduation in February the position has been vacant. Our only other senior is Charles Kline; next year however there will be seven seniors in Parsons, Richards, Peiffer, Mitchell, Wells, Muller, and Cosgrove.

Perhaps C-2 is best known as the winningest section in the nightly WLRN contests. Just ask anyone at the station about the faithful support of C-2—it's a dreaded name.

Drava

Dravo D-1, like most other sections, entered the Fall semester overrun by freshmen.

During the year our most outstanding achievement was our unanimous (forcible) attendance at the Brown game football rally which if you remember was held at Union Station at 7:30 in the morning. We also won, with the help of Dravo D-2, the Drave House football championship.

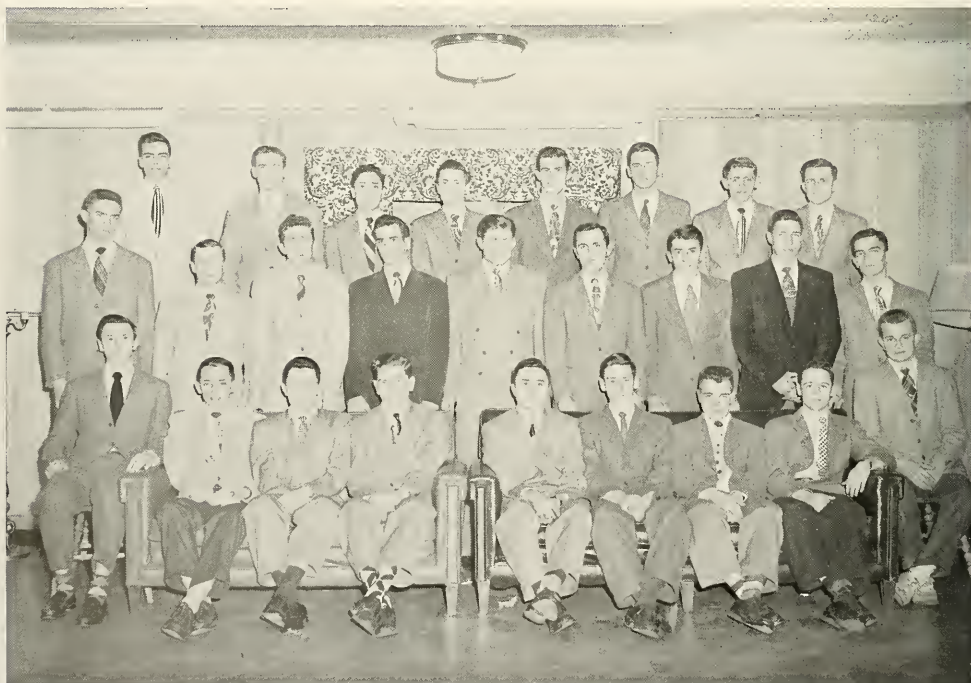

We have been planning a section party but due to financial difficulties we have not been able to make it a reality as yet. During the Spring we welcomed back Hugh McKay who for the third semester has neither flunked a course nor made his average.

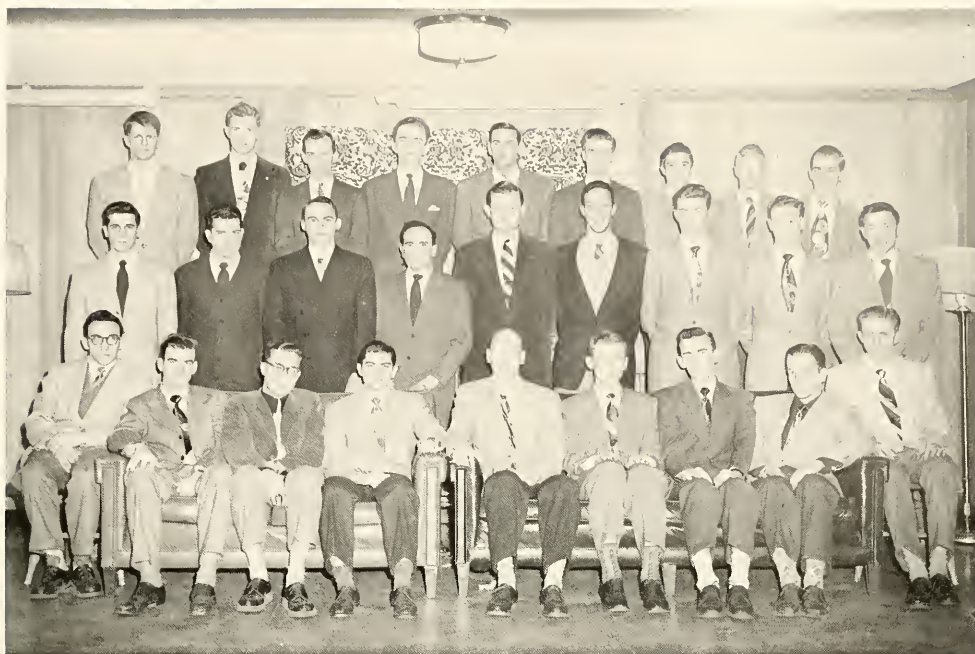

We were well represented in athletics with such men as Dan Edwards, varsity fencing, Jim Stoneback, freshmen football, Richard Glander, varsity soccer, Tom Cowley, freshmen basketball, Don Walker, freshmen tennis, and Martin Welles, freshmen fencing manager.

During the year our officers have been George Edelstein, President; Charles Dunlevy and later Robert Wagner, Secretary-Treasurer; Bruce Van Dyke, Social Chairman and Robert Grim, Scholastic Chairman.

When the upper classmen returned to the campus in the fall of '49, they found the section overrun with thirty energetic freshmen, thanks to the new system requiring first year men to live in the dorms. The old timers also found that the walls were still unpainted and continued to crumble and drop particles of sand all over the rooms.

Although rating slightly above the all-University average, D-2 was far from scholastically outstanding. In sports, however, the picture was brighter. The section captured the Dravo House football championship and reached the finals in inter-dorm competition. The basketball team took second place in Dravo House, while the wrestlers grappled their way to the inter-dorm championship. Bill Berry won the 128 lb. crown, Ed Bara came in third at 121, and Myles Adelman, Warren Spatz, and Bob Whiteside placed fourth in their weights.

Members of D-2 had their fingers in many extra-curricular pies around campus. To mention a few: Mustard and Cheese, WLRN, Brown and White, SCL Committee, Cyanide, Phi Beta Kappa, and numerous course and honorary scholarship societies.

Our corps of bathroom baritones proved that the sound absorbent material lining the halls isn't foolproof. Visitors are struck by the bare brick walls in the halls, but we who have lived here awhile realize that unless the walls were rugged the freshmen would have done away with them long ago.

Drinker 1

With a bang and a clatter and a rustle of many freshman handbooks, the class of '53 descended on Drinker 1 in September. Caught unawares, the old guard was outnumbered 19 to 10; by February the ratio was even greater: 21 to 7. For a few days, the old timers took a dim view of the deluge, but soon each group came to know and respect the other.

Extra-curricular activities of section members included freshman football, basketball, and wrestling, Brown and White, WLRN, Mustard and Cheese radio workshop, band, cheerleaders, APO, Glee Club, German Club, and Cosmopolitan Club. Numbered among the wheels were an Arcadia member, the head cheerleader, WLRN's director of remotes and special events, the Cosmopolitan Club secretary, the German Club treasurer, Radio Workshop's director of music, a Brown and White editorial writer, two NSA delegates, WLRN's chief announcer, and the Brown and White desk editor.

Canasta was the rage in the newly-furnished lounge. Death-defying drivers raced dime-store autos through flaming paper hoops on the miniature speedway which stretched from ceiling to floor and from corner to corner in the "party room." "Cedar Crest Call" echoed through the corridor at all hours.

And there was one alumnus who just wouldn't go home.

Drinker 2-A

The men of Drinker 2-A, never to be outdone, really jumped in feet first this year. President Ed Mierzwinski is a Freshman Councilor, while roommates Ed Luthy and Bob Kuhns were president and vice-president, respectively, of the A.S.M.E. and John Rohall, president of the Chem. Society, until graduation in February. Further down the hall we find Bob Halfacre, president of the Met. Society; and Bob Hannan, president of the newly organized A.I.I.E. Other seniors include quiet Lyle Wagner and Allie Vetter, whose parting words to the men of 2-A were, "From a student to the ranks of the unemployed overnight."

2-A also boosts a junior varsity wrestler, two members of the Senior Cabinet, two Tau Beta Pi men, two Pi Tau Sigma men, and a fistful of freshmen athletes.

Although sometimes amazingly quiet—like a boiler factory—2-A will always be fondly recalled by those of us who are leaving.

2-B

With a dorm football championship, a winning freshman skit, and a dozen or more 3.0 averages under its belt, Drinker 2-B emerged from its first semester of the year with an enviable record. Maintaining pleasant (quiet) study hours was not a hard job because the members of the section were usually out to the various societies, clubs, etc., to which they belonged. A brief survey of the organizations in which the section was represented reveals: Chem Society, WLRN, Brown and White, band, orchestra, sailing club, wrestling, football, soccer, swimming, radio society, flying club, Pre-Med society, Newman Club. 2-B's marble halls of learning harbored members of Phi Beta Koppa, Tau Beta Pi, Phi Eta Sigma, and Pi Tau Sigma. The section had its fun at home, too . . . Neville established an art gallery while Fred Snyder goaded the freshmen on to greater scholastic achievements through his untiring efforts as scholastic chairman; Bruce Carey fought fires after getting rid of his iron cast; Otto Preis kept law and order in the section with his booming commands. Section dinners highlighted the year and the section was honored in February with guest-speaker Dean Leith. Shouts of joy rang through the halls as members of the class of February '50 landed jobs. 2-B salutes all its senior members in this, their last semester at Lehigh.

Drinker 3-A

It is awfully hard to find a gang of twenty-eight men all together who make up the best twenty-eight you've ever known. Well, that's exactly what we have up here in Drinker 3-A. In spite of a little mischief and noise now and then, every man of the section is a swell individual, and we all work as a team, the best there is.

We have men in just about every organization on campus—not only leaders, but what is sometimes even harder, cooperative followers. We took the interdorm bowling championship, and came in third in interdorm wrestling.

In spite of the fact that Hol Hoops and Wayne Reed, president and secretary respectively, are perpetually trying to bleed us of our few pennies, and Bob Lanyon, athletic manager, hounds us to go down to the gym all the time, we don't think they're such agers as they seem at times. Chuck Ernst has done a good job of freshman counseling, as witnessed by the fact that very few freshmen in 3-A or 3-B have cracked up and committed suicide.

All in all, each man does his job, all working together to make the perfect section.

Willy and Jimmie left at Mid-year, but before that there were many things of note worth remembering: At House-party we had the Bund Meeting and breakfast at Kozar's. Numerous brawls; "Gimme a book Leo, I gotta log . . . any book, pust gotta log". Leo: "That's all right, they're just in the growing up process." And then there were the gals from Goucher; a rousing good time was had by all . . . "Well, go on home," "Where's my tie clasp?". Behind it all was the "tack'er, I'll mack'er" from the Toxon Twins. Seven-thirty, crack of dawn, don't mack'er . . . lose two bits. And Modest Jack fining the noisy. Come the end, all the upper classmen monitors were broke. Weren't we all? But through it all came Shirlee . . .

Drinker 3-β

The pace of life for Drinker 4 was set at a "Get Acquainted" party. The nucleus of the party formed around pitcher and mug, and soon a festive spirit reigned—with jokes, pranks, singing and Drinker 4 claiming a large new list of deacons and chug-a-luggers. The party came to an end, but the spirit of it was captured, and it predominated in similar events throughout the year.

Quartets sprang up throughout the section, and beer-call, radio, ceiling, and mule-calls were made regularly until the play at night started "making Jack a dull boy" in the morning. A vigilance committee was formed to enforce the 7 to 12 p.m. study-time. But, even this did not dampen the spirits of the men, and a second vigilance committee was formed to enforce the first. Delegates often came from the third floor to quell the melee, but with only partial success, for reinforcements arrived from Drinker 1 and 2 to join the law-breakers and to help Peterson in his game of "tinkle-tinkle".

Drinker 4 made itself well-known on the campus by participation in the Glee Club, Cliff-Cleffs, intramural sports and other campus activities. Pete Strategos, we feel confident, will some day wrestle 121 pound for Lehigh.

We'll always remember: Cave-Party, Matthes' Mumps, Smith's "pictures", Cecil Jones' hair in the morning, Malizia's Be-Bop, and last but not least, Bill (Huji) Ladew.

Leonard Hall is a unique part of the Lehigh family. Founded in 1907 by the Right Reverend Ethelbert Talbot, Leonard Hall is a home for pre-theological students who are pursuing undergraduate studies at Lehigh in preparation for the Ministry of the Episcopal Church. The Leonard Hall pre-theo has an opportunity to participate actively in the maintenance of one of four mission churches. Before he enters seminary, he has had considerable experience in preaching, conducting services of public worship, and teaching Sunday School. Daily worship services in the Leonard Hall chapel add a religious note to the regular University life of the Leonard Hall man. The Right Reverend Frank W. Sterrett, present Bishop of the Diocese of Bethlehem, and the Reverend Dean T. Stevenson, Dean of Leonard Hall, guide the pre-theos during their stay at the hall. A scholarship to Leonard Hall gives deserving pre-theological students an opportunity to become part of the long and worthy traditions of this unusual Christian fellowship at Lehigh University.

Under the able guidance of president Joe Kelley, Price Hall exerted its usual dominance on campus activities. Inside the spotless walls, "Ex-champ" Long borrowed (?) any funds of the dorm that were left after Abe Cassidy's administration of the exchequer. George Allen led us through a successful athletic season, while "House-Mother" Orford kept the freshmen off the straight-and-narrow with the help of Shorty Deardon. Between Jack Meyer and J. C. Beebe, we had some swell unannounced parties.

The Old Brewery was loaded—with local activities. The Third Floor Bridge Circle met nightly. Gutsy Clark, "Father" Kelley, and Hal O'Schwartzberg formed the Theological Society. The Beaver Patrol was based in "F" suite, while the Canasta Club met in "B" and "C" suites. The tempo exiles formed the John's Lunch Union.

Harry Foster played varsity football. Ed Rider was Arcadia secretary and Dick Orford served as president of Eta Kappa Nu. Lon Blauvelt and Don Schotles kept up the lacrosse team.

The fall semester saw a multitude of nineteen freshmen invade our halls for a four year engagement with Lehigh. For awhile the role of the upperclassmen as lards and masters was dubious, the odds being two to one. In a few days some trivial duties were imposed and order was restored as Uncle Bill Beck assumed his duty of freshman councilor. Smilin' Doug Williams helped to keep his end of the hall quiet while Farny's clarinet had the opposite effect on the other end of the hall.

The hard work of Dick Peterson, Social Chairman John Butler, and President Bill Campbell made possible a sleepless, funpacked, Houseparty weekend culminating in a spirited dungaree party at Riegelsville in which charcoal, pumpkins, apples, wet hair, fog, and sleepy chaperones all had their part.

Our efforts in intramural football sparked by our athletic freshmen (who also did well in track and swimming) were rewarded with five victories and only one defeat. The most memorable game occurred with Richards 2B when Bo threw an end-over-end pass to Coop for a T.D. and followed this with a confused scamper around end to gain the extra point needed for the favorable score of 7 to 6. "Shorty" Foerster got up on his toes and lead our hot section basketball team in a successful season.

Richards 2-A

Under the able guidance of Captain Hank Kehrli the crew of the good ship "TOOAY" had a most enjoyable cruise during the 1949-50 season. Even though over two-thirds of the TOOAY Gobs were Freshmen at the beginning of school last September, the molding together of a first class fighting unit was effected in rapid order. The section bowling team came thru to take the championship of Richards House by defeating 4A by a close match. Coach Dick Goldsmith awarded medals to Mike Krehel, George Richardson, Bill Nancarrow, Wally Wolcott and Rolly Oberhardt for their teamwork in capturing the bowling title. Bill Dempsey graduated in February and took off promptly for Florida. Bill was a grand guy and will always be remembered as a past Master and roater of TOOAY. Also graduating in February was John Way. John graduated with honors and just to be able to stick around South Mountain he took a graduate fellowship in the Chemistry Department. Pizza pie was adopted as the official form of nourishment for this crew. The Pizza King, Herbert Judson Fritzche, could always be found meditating at his desk with a sizzling hot Pizza pie near at hand. Two section dinners were held at the Hannoversville Hotel this season. Both affairs were deemed a huge success and many belts had to be let out a notch or two.

The inhabitants of the second floor of Richards House, better known to the outside world as Section 2B, have just completed another year in typical 2B fashion.

The culinary artists Len Dolby, Jack Giglio, and Ston Goodnow have kept up the tradition of the finest cuisine this side of Lambchop, while Bob Conrad, pizza pie empresario, managed to keep the Health Service active as a result of his flourishing business.

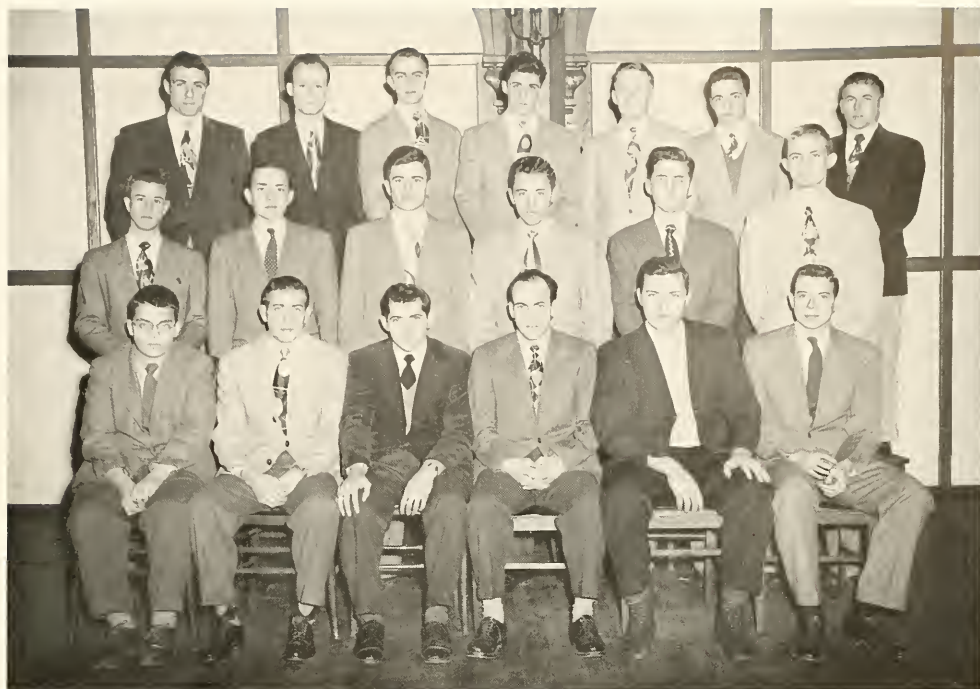

The banquet held at Shankweiler's was enjoyed by everyone; even Frank Jennings and Joe Nolan were filled to their tremendous capacities. Bill Jollie was major-domo for the fall semester and then passed the sceptre to Jule Kovacs for the remaining term. Al "Private Eye" Rittmann tracked down many a phone call in his role as treasurer, the job he inherited from "Loan Shark" Jennings.

The athletic teams performed creditably, but missed being champs despite the efforts of manager Nolan.

Don Polinok graduated in February to apply his talents learned in 2B at Republic Steel. The remaining men of the section wish him and the June graduates all possible success in their new endeavors.

The year 1949-1950 was a good one for this section, both in studies and athletics. The new crop of Freshmen raised the scholastic average, showing the old hands some new tricks in the way of getting good grades. Maybe studying did it. They also added a great deal to the athletic prowess of the section. Witness the football championship and the basketball record. The wrestling mania took hold of the section and under the able guidance of George "Coach" Moyant, our team holds great promise. As usual, in order to confuse the powers that be, we held two elections during the year. Our presidents were Bob Herman and By Ehlers, with "Coach" Moyant taking care of athletics and Bob Wood and Bob Barry doing the dirty work of the section, trying to collect bills. One of the highlights of the year was the banquet at Hanoverville with Doc Fornoff presiding. Two of the "old guard", Al Johnson and George Allan, graduated in February, and the rest, Bob Barry, Bob Herman, and Nort McKnight will leave in June. Art Grundmann went over to Dravo to take care of the freshmen while Paul Gudikunst took care of our Frosh. Al Hogle took a while off to get some courses at Columbia and Frank Arrison is still trying to sell "White Lightning," that tremendously powerful one-lunger cycle. Through the year the men were thrilled by the melodious (?) strains of Gilbert and Sullivan, thanks to Doc Wood.

"Few things are impossible to diligence and skill." And few things were impossible for RICHARDS 3-B during the past two semesters. The residents of 3-B, although predominantly freshmen (the first time in section history), carried on the traditions and precedents of their section with an unflinching sense of pride and determination.

Only by diligence and skill could the section's respected scholastic records be upheld as they were. Only by pride and determination could 3-B football, basketball, and wrestling teams maintain their standing in inter-dormitory competition. Only by intelligence and cooperation could the very important and essential traditions of brotherhood and friendship be continued as they were throughout the past year in section 3-B.

During the past fall and spring semesters, a total of forty men have made 3-B their university residence. Some have lived in the section only a short time, while others have lived there for several years. Each one of these forty men, whether four-week or four-year residents, has gained something valuable from his associations with Richards 3-B. Each one has gained thirty-three new and lasting friends.

Richards 3-B

Due to the new dormitory system which went into effect this year, the old crew from 4-A was split up and we began with thirteen freshmen.

Like last year our big sport was bowling again this year. We managed to make the semi-finals when an inferior team caught us off guard and beat us.

In February we lost three men due to graduation, Messrs. Wolfram Abicht, Nelson Behler, and Jack Gedney. We miss the aroma of Nel's home cooking every noon time. I wonder if he still has his car in one piece? Abicht's position as section critic has been taken over by a qualified freshman. Graduation seemed to be a start in the right direction for Jack Gedney's marriage.

Although the social life during the Fall semester was poor it certainly did pick up in the Spring.

In June when we lose two more men, Paul Lentz and Lee Carpenter, we will lose a good administrator and Lee's methods of riding herd on the noisy elements.

The section wishes all of the graduates the best of luck and success.

And now we come to Section 4-B, whose members do everything from boiling water to chasing fires. The fire chasers combine with the water boilers to make steam for the engineer to run his engines, thereby driving the business students nuts trying to figure the cost per horsepower produced. The section consists of ten Upperclassmen and 14 freshmen. Among the upperclassmen we have Bob Bills (C.E.) and Lou Brandt (Ch.E.), both married. Lou's wife finally made him move into town in February. George Blount, the fall semester president, has been reduced to section treasurer. Our two smoke eaters are Dick Douty (C.E.) and John Hiestand (Ch.E.), both of Harrisburg. Ed Dreisbach and Hal Quinn compose the section electrical staff and Hal doubles as freshmen counselor. Milt "Huygen" LeRoy and Bill Murray are the outstanding M.E.'s, while chemist Dave Knoderer is the boy who loves Bugs Bunny. Then of course there's Earle Hoxie (Met.E.) He's only the section president.

As for the freshmen there's Anthony Albert (M.E.) who loves math. Townsend Albright (M.E.) and Don Armstrong (Arts) are the two leading lady killers. George Hoover (Arts and Met.) has everything from a soda mixer to a fire plug in his room. Charlie Hull (Bus.) and Jack "Tune" Witherington (Bus.) claim to be football heroes. Great Neck, L. I. gave us a couple of quiet boys named Dave Roeder (Bus.) and Alex Umanetz (I.E.).

Taylor A is a name which will strike fear into the hearts of last place teams in Interdormitory competition for many years to come. Our athletic manager Rip Carter, set a new record by always wearing street shoes no matter what the sport.

Taylor A is well represented in varsity sports. Such men as Fred Kluge, Harry Dowling, and Jerry Hiner are varsity men in football, lacrosse and soccer respectively. Our military genius, Hank Needles, is Colonel of the Air Force R.O.T.C. group and captains the rifle team.

We have men active in such organizations as Brown and White, WLRN, the Ski Club, and the Debating Society.

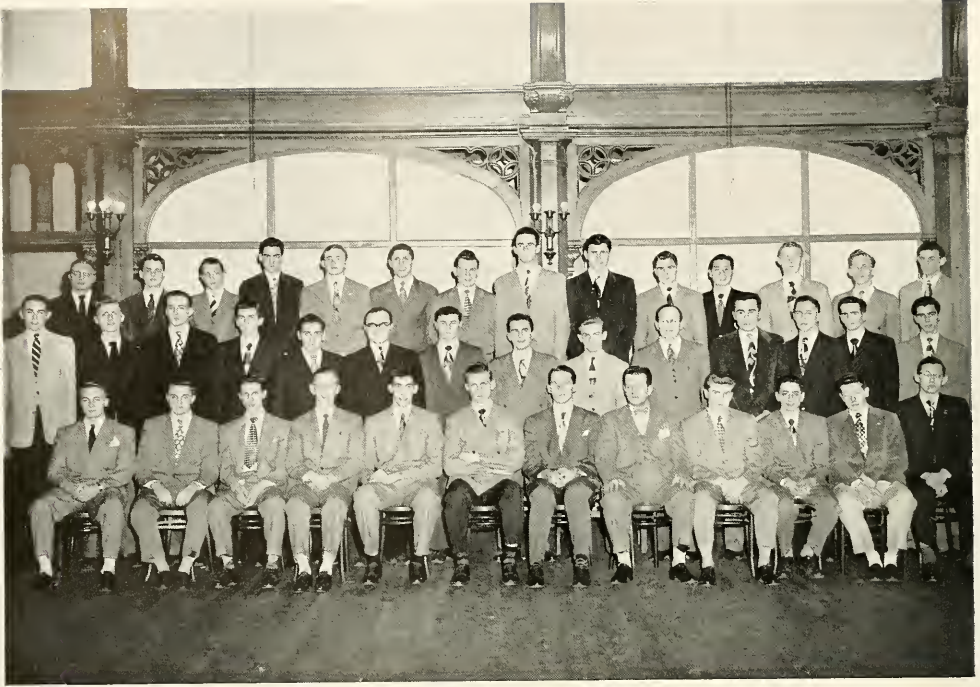

Our evenings are spent in one of two ways, wrestling or arguing. However, we did produce one genius in the form of Charlie Close who will graduate with highest honors this Spring.

If your skill is in the field of card playing Taylor A is the place to come. The upperclassmen have done a fine job of teaching the Freshmen the finer points of the art.

Taylor A's financial matters are under the able guidance of Bill Murphy, who incidently will be under the able guidance of a Mrs. Bill Murphy after April 2, 1950. Robert Hucks, our Secretary, actually writes a legible letter.

This fall the section forgot their differences and school work for one evening and held a bang up party at Christy's.

Taylor B

Smarting from the dismal performance shown at the Taylor Hall Field Day, the boys of Taylor B clanned together and established an athletic record envied by all. Foremost in the picture was Dick Gabriel, captain-elect of the 1951 gridiron eleven, who paced the Keystone State scorers with 96 points, who established a new E.I.F.A. rushing record with 1023 yards (8.11 per try), and who earned himself a berth on the Little All-American team. Also on the football squad were Bob Borofski, Bill Ciaravino, and Dave Mesick. In the Frosh backfield were two promising boys—Paul Fedeles and Jim Hancock.

The Inter-dorm sports, under the guidance of Bill Olischar and George "Legs" Finch, rose into prominence for the first time in many years. Taylor B's "Cinderella" touch-football team captured the league title, and its towering basketball quintet swamped all opponents.

Taylor B also played a significant role in campus activities. Vic Daub was named to "Who's Who" and O.D.K., Frank Morgart garnered top honors in the Business College, and John Carroll earned his Pi Tau Sigma key. Members of the section were also active in the Chem. Society, Brown Key Society, A.S.M.E., Brown and White, the Glee Club, Alpha Kappa Psi, Arcodia, and Cyanide.

Taylor C

Section C was inundated with Freshmen this year, as were all other sections, but the upper classmen survived the storm through the able direction of Harry Rush, "The Big Wheel who crushes little freshmen," and Ed Wardell, "The 'Soggy' Freshmen Whip." Many of these freshmen distinguished themselves in various school activities including freshman football, cross country, soccer, wrestling, baseball, swimming, and the books. By far the outstanding achievement of any freshman was accomplished by veteran Dick Ziegler, who got married and continued to live in the section.

Those seniors missing from action after February included Wright "Micro-motion" Masters, the guy who believed and practiced Time and Motion Study, and his side kick "General" Dick Miller who even carried his military genius to the younger generation through the APO. Then there were the inseperable Jim Long and Ed Kerrick, wrestling duo and casanovas extraordinary, and Fronk Helms, the slave to Chemistry.

Left behind to hold down the hallowed bastions of Taylor C was George Goebel, the "Bewley Coolie", and proprietor of the store during the spring semester along with his partner Art Richards, the career Soldier Boy and also your friend and author of this report.

Also prominent in the field of athletics were four varsity football players, Brennan, Maher, Scannella, and Valeriano.

Taylor D

The make up of Taylor "D" was greatly altered by the arrival of thirty freshmen during the fall semester. Under the militaristic eye of Dunc Wood, our sophomore representative, they were kept well in hand even though the upperclassmen were outnumbered two to one.

A detailed sketch would show Bill Murphy at the helm feverishly attempting to keep his crew in hand, Michels counseling the misguided frosh, Wheeler trying to solve the mystery of the telephone bill, Wood pursuing some errant frosh through the hall, MacFadden searching for one of his model airplanes, Swantek trying to sell his car to some unsuspecting frosh, Walters and Tabor violently discussing the merits of John L. Lewis, and Roseman, Stewart, Cashman and Oliver striving fervently to uphold the section scholastic average.

Section "D" copped the Taylor Hall bowling championship, and gave Taylor "B" a tough battle for the title of football champs. We were well represented in varsity sports by such members as: Donatelli and Sanchini in wrestling, Cashman, Flagg and Murphy on the hockey team, Wheeler and Davis on the rifle team, and Pilla and Schaeffer on the freshman football and swimming teams respectively.

Although we lost over one-half of our members last year due to graduation, we have retained an active section with a high scholastic standing. Section E ranked 14th out of the 81 living groups during the fall semester of 1949-50.

Although Section E took no championships in the intramural sports program this past year, we are proud to be able to say that we won the annual Taylor Hall Field Day award.

Under the new plan for allocation of Freshmen, we find that the youngsters outnumber the upper-classmen, but no serious difficulties have arisen from this fact as yet. The section was fortunate in getting such a fine group of new members. Don Drack, president of the section, was appointed to the position of foster-parent for these foundlings.

At the same time, we of the section deem it unfortunate that we are losing such an illustrious group of seniors. Among those who will graduate this semester are: Frank Schneiders, our past president; Norm Stone and Joe Brewer, who are known as Bewley's Collies; Jack Ransohoff and Don Barlow, our tennis and wrestling representatives, respectively; George Erdman and Luther Reber, our high average men; George Scheller, photographer and director of morals and behavior; and last, but by far from least, Tom Davis, who has been a constant inspiration to us all.

The 19 members of Tempo 1 form a unique living group on the campus. Living in a Quonset Hut, with only partitions separating the rooms, requires a high degree of co-operation among the members. Despite a few small obstacles such as this, Tempo 1 leads the dormitory sections in scholarship rating.

Starting at one end of the "hut" as it's called, we find Dick Taven, Photo Editor of the Brown and White, vainly trying to get his staff on the ball. Speaking of staffs, we should mention Staff Gellatly, a prospective Geophysicist, who lives next door. Across the hall are two Keefes, Bill and Ray, who are unrelated even though sharing the same name. In room 6 we find the inevitable bull session, Bill Lerch, the room's principal occupant, leading the activity. Also crowded in the cubicle are Harvey Smith, Tom Walker, Dave Breingan, and Don Keller. The talk usually runs to Socialism. Next door, trying to get his work done is E.P. Earl Schlegel. Also in the squirrel contingent are Chem major Paul Bybell, and Ray Basiago, E.E., who's efforts usually resulted in top marks. Arne Ward up the hall is throwing socks at fellow Geologist Keller, and Businessman Emil Chabala is observing business conditions at the local movie house. Ad Fennick, recovering from a Wilkes-Barre weekend, tries to catch up on a few Journalism assignments. Lou Mads comments on the noise from his room by playing his horn.

In 1946, Lehigh University acquired the services of William B. Leckonby, a well-known figure in football circles, as her head football, and golf coach. Bill graduated from St. Lawrence College in 1939 with a B.S. in Education. At St. Lawrence Coach Leckonby played basketball and football, but it was in the latter that he shone and earned All-East and Little All-American honors.

Jumping from the collegiate ranks to big league professional ball, Bill became a star for the Brooklyn Dodgers before entering military service during World War II. As an Aviation Cadet in the Navy, Mr. Leckonby continued his football career playing quarterback for both the Pensacola N. A. S. and for Jacksonville N. A. S.

Later he was transferred to the Pacific Theater where he starred for the Navy All-Stars of Honolulu along with Buddy Young of Illinois. Although he resides in nearby Hellertown at present, Bill calls Troy, New York, his home town.

Bill had many thrills on the gridiron, but the ones he treasures very highly are those dating back to his college days when he personally played important roles in St. Lawrence victories over Clarkson Tech, a rival as traditional to him as Lafayette is to a Lehigh man.

Captain Bob Numbers, Civil Engineer senior and star center from Allentown, Pennsylvania was the leader and spark plug of Lehigh's best football team in many years. Bobby's precision blocking and stalwart defensive work earned him a place on the All-Eastern and All-State teams as well as Little All-American honors. Bob's great career began as a two year All-State High School player. From high school he went into the Navy and starred with the Sampson Naval Training team, a cracker-jack war time outfit. His next stop was Lehigh where his three years of outstanding work have earned him a spot among the all time Lehigh greats. Bob declined North-South and East-West game bids because of studies and a desire to spend Christmas with his family.

Pacing Lehigh and all Eastern collegians was Dick Gabriel, Business Administration junior and left halfback from Valley Stream, New York. "Gabe" scored 16 touchdowns to take the Pennsylvania scoring title, and gained 1023 yards rushing to not only be the leading ground gainer in the East, but to set an all time high rushing mark. His 8.11 yards per carry this year topped his 1948 Sophomore record of 7.47, when he gained 837 yards. "Gabe" was voted to the International News Service All State team and received honorable mention on the Associated Press All East team. He received the "Maxwell Award of the Week" for his outstanding play in the Lafayette game. Some of the longer gallops that Dick made this season were 95, 88, 64, 62, 61, and 58 yards.

Famously known throughout the nation as the "Knute Rockne and Dean of Wrestling," William Sheridan arrived on the Lehigh campus in June 1911 from the University of Pennsylvania. At first he was the football trainer for Lehigh grid teams, but it wasn't long before he became head wrestling coach and head soccer coach, two positions which he still holds. Today, over the land and especially on the Eastern Seaboard, Billy has made the name Lehigh synonymous with the sport, wrestling.

Billy was born in Scotland and became a British wrestling champion before coming to the United States. Since he has coached at Lehigh, Billy has lived in Bethlehem. His hobbies are both personal and civic. He enjoys a good fishing trip and a close game of checkers at any time. At present he is both a School Director of the City of Bethlehem and the Chairman of the Board of Recreation of the City.

In all his associations with the sporting world, Billy claims that his most thrilling experience happened in 1934 when he saw Ben Bishop, one of his own wrestlers, awarded the Outstanding Wrestler Trophy in the National Intercollegiate Tournament. He said, "There has been no other thrill quite like that one."

senior matmen

Two time champ, Captain Dick Kelsey brought four seasons of varsity 136 pound wrestling to a close by taking a fourth place in the '49-'50 EIWA tournament. Kelsey scored 23 wins and two draws out of 30 dual matches in his varsity competition, totaling 99 points.

He notched 10 tournament wins against one defeat. Eric Erikson bows out of intercollegiate wrestling leaving the enviable record of placing four times in EIWA competition. He took three seconds and a third in his four years at Lehigh. Eric topped the squad for the past several seasons in total wins and points scored. Including tournament matches, the 155'er, won 44 matches and drew three out of 60 attempts. He scored 121 points in his four dual meet seasons. Numerous pins and great clutch wrestling were Gus LaSasso's stocks in trade in his four varsity seasons on the mat. The local heavyweight became the crowd's darling because of his ability to break up meets at an early hour. Gus pinned 15 opponents, decisioned five and drew with two, against only two defeats in his collegiate career, for a total of 96 dual meet points. He added nine more wins in 12 tournament bouts, placing second twice and third once.

Lehigh's new Eastern champion at 128, George Feuerbach, has a sensational record of only one defeat in collegiate competition. After a freshman season which saw him pin seven times in seven matches, George came on to a varsity season in which he won ten out of eleven matches, six by falls.

In winning his championship, he scored one fall and defeated two former Eastern Champs, Dave Poor of Princeton and Stan Mousetis from Franklin & Marshall, by decisive scores. His only loss was to Lou Tschirhart of Syracuse.

Not too strong physically, George used speed, balance, and leverage to win his matches. Always modest, he attributes much of his success to his early training at Mephram High School, Long Island, under the eye of "Sprig" Gardner.

Lehigh's frash relay on their way to victory at Lancaster

The man with diversification on the Lehigh coaching staff is William T. Christian. Bill is currently head coach of the swimming team, and is now one of our best grid scouts, last year doing a fine job in following Lafayette through the season. Bill came to Lehigh in August of 1947.

Previously, he graduated from Trenton State Teachers College with a B.S. degree in Education. In college he played football, baseball, and basketball. In 1939 he was the property of the New York Giants professional baseball team. While in the Navy V-5 program for four years, Bill taught swimming and carrier procedure and played basketball for the Norman team of Oklahoma.

Although he lives near Bethlehem now, Bill calls Chatham, N. J. his home town. His hobbies include all kinds of sports, especially swimming and hunting, and the manufacture of candy at which he spends much of his spare time and at which he is very successful. Having many thrills in sports, as have all our coaches, Bill likes to remember his improving records with the swimming team here at Lehigh as giving him his greatest thrills.

Winning 7 and losing 11 in the first two years, Bill's fine swimming team won 9 and lost 1 in the 1949-50 campaign and became champions of the Middle Atlantic Conference.

Daniel H. Yarbro has been coaching Varsity Basketball, Cross Country, and Track at Lehigh University since September of 1946. Previously, Dan had coached high school athletics at Bardwell, Texas, for two years and also coached at North Texas State Teachers College for one year. He graduated from Hillsboro Junior College and North Texas State Teachers College from which he acquired a B.S. and an M.S. in Physical Education.

At these schools he played football, baseball, basketball and track. Dan won his letter four times in basketball and he was a member of the Lone Star All-Conference Team. Throughout the school year Dan resides near Bethlehem but in the summer he returns to Fort Worth, Texas, now his home town. His main interests lie in sports, basketball being his specialty.

Dan doesn't remember any one game or even as being most thrilling; rather, he remembers them all as providing good plays and much enjoyment.

Coach Dockham and his field chiefs, Baldwin and Jennings.

When Lehigh University began to build up her Intercollegiate Athletic Program following the war, she was very fortunate in obtaining David M. Dockham as Head Lacrosse coach, assistant backfield coach in Football, and Frosh Swimming coach. "Dock," as he is known to the players, graduated from Springfield College in Massachusetts with a B.S. in Physical Education.

At present he is working on a Masters Degree in Education which he expects to finish in the near future. At Springfield, Dock played football, basketball, swimming, and lacrosse and was mentioned on the All-New England teams. Before coming to Lehigh, Dock was an assistant coach in various sports at his Alma Mater, and served war-time duty in the Navy and the Coast Guard as a pilot.

Like the other coaches Dock lives near Bethlehem now but he calls Somerville, Massachusetts his real home. His hobbies include all kinds of sports with special emphasis placed on diving. Dock recalls an intercollegiate lacrosse game between Springfield and Harvard in 1941 as offering him the greatest thrills in sports. He personally scored three goals in the last four minutes to beat Harvard that day.

Also, Dock swam against Allen Ford of Yale when the latter set a world's record. In addition to his coaching duties, Mr. Dockham does some fine scouting of Lehigh's grid opponents on Saturday afternoon while his back is carrying on at home for Lehigh.

Out of the

A dense collage of numerous black and white photographs from the mid-20th century, depicting various social events, parties, and group gatherings. The photos show people in formal and casual attire, dancing, sitting at tables, and posing for group shots. Some photos include text overlays like "WOMEN" and "JUMPING". The collage is arranged in a non-linear fashion, with photos overlapping each other, creating a sense of a busy, festive atmosphere. The subjects are primarily young adults, likely students or members of a social club, engaged in various activities such as dancing, socializing, and posing for group portraits. The clothing and hairstyles suggest a time period between the 1940s and 1960s. The overall composition is a visual summary of a series of social events, capturing moments of joy and community.

TO PROVIDE A SOUND BASIS

FOR SUCCESSFUL-LIVING

"Mister, you have Dyslexia"

COLLEGE students can suffer the effects of dyslexia—and never know it. A hidden sapper of time and grades, dyslexia is the lack of ability to understand words and sentences as they are read.

At first thought, it might seem unlikely that a student could reach the college level with such a disability. Ordinarily, however, he has learned to compensate through quick understanding of the spoken word and by the reading of assigned texts again and again.

But even hidden study problems can be analyzed by the instrument shown above and others used by the Lehigh University Reading and Study Clinic. In this case, the path of the eyes is charted as they follow the words on a printed card. The resulting pattern reveals symptoms of dyslexia or other sneak-thieves of study hours. Then, special classes are suggested to correct deficiencies—both for those whose class work is below standard and for superior students who wish to improve their skill.

Like other services in Lehigh University's personnel guidance program, the Reading and Study Clinic is an additional step in providing the student with the fully developed capabilities demanded by today's world.

The satisfaction of having done a task well is often of greater value than a monetary reward. To gain the confidence of others so that they will believe you and trust your judgment is to be valued very highly.

Our reputation as printers and our intimate knowledge of the building and servicing of class annuals together with our very fair and honest business methods has won for us a very enviable place in this specialized field of work and we are striving each year to improve our service and produce still better books.

It has indeed been a pleasure to have had a part in helping to produce this annual.
